study of legendary entertainment the analysis shows how the studio adopted and adapted its global strategies in order to gain access to and favour within the chinese film market and how issues of censorship and financial performance affected the choices they made demonstrating legendary s identity as a post postclassical studio and examining how this plays into its china strategy this book explores how this particular case and the necessary analysis of wider political economic relations offer a periodisation of the contemporary hollywood china relationship this book will interest students and scholars of media and film studies as well as academics whose research interests include global cinema hollywood chinese cinema transnational cinema and film industry studies this book provides critical commentary on key issues around virtual reality using media technology as a tool to challenge perspectives for learning and understanding cultural diversities with a focus on empathy embodiment and ethics the book interrogates the use of immersive technologies for formal and informal educational contexts taking a critical approach to discourses around emerging technology and learning the book presents the idea that a new literacy is emerging and an emphasis on media and technology is needed in the context of education to explore and experience cultural diversities employing a personal reflexive narrative the chapters highlight key issues through research and interviews with leading practitioners in the field understanding virtual reality will be of great interest to academics and students interested in the effects of immersive realities on the education experience and to anyone keen on exploring the paradigm shift from entertainment to education in 1996 during the relatively early days of the web kenneth goldsmith created ubuto post hard to find works of concrete poetry what started out as a site to share works from a relatively obscure literary movement grew into an essential archive of twentieth and twenty first century avant garde and experimental literature film and music visitors around the world now have access to both obscure and canonical works from artists such as kara walker yoko ono pauline oliveros samuel beckett marcel duchamp cecil taylor glenn ligon william burroughs and jean luc godard in duchamp is my lawyer goldsmith tells the history of ubuexplaining the motivations behind its creation and how artistic works are archived consumed and distributed online based on his own experiences and interviews with a variety of experts goldsmith describes how the site navigates issues of copyright and the ways that ubuchallenges familiar configurations and histories of the avant garde the book also portrays the growth of other shadow libraries and includes a section on the artists whose works reflect the aims aesthetics and ethos of ubugoldsmith concludes by contrasting ubus commitment to the free culture movement and giving access to a wide range of artistic works with today s gatekeepers of algorithmic culture such as netflix amazon and spotify drawing on a rich legacy of pictorial evidence images of childhood examines historical constructions of childhood and how they reinforce or challenge the prevailing view of childhood as a state of innocence each chapter explores how visual elements such as framing points of view and lighting as well as clothes accessories and body language help to construct our many different conceptions of children from members of the family unit and assumed gender roles to schooling and aesthetic objects through to their economic value and use in political propaganda skillfully navigating a multitude of perspectives on this topic paul duncum considers both how our ideas beliefs and values have changed throughout history and how some have remained unchanged he also explores the cultural notion of the child within and how this has contributed to the way adults perceive children the result is a text far broader in scope than any other in its field as art history is interweaved with contemporary popular culture to explore how we visually represent childhood in doing so the book highlights the real life implications that these representations have on children's rights master's thesis from the year 2025 in the subject film science grade 1-3 humboldt university of berlin language english abstract this thesis applies michel foucault's concept of power knowledge to explore how censorship functions in contemporary chinese cinema censorship is not merely repressive it also defines what may be spoken here power does not necessarily flow from above but often works in more subtle forms such as self censorship and internalized norms as foucault suggests power is most effective when it becomes normalized and invisible filmmakers often preemptively adjust their creative choices anticipating censorship without explicit directives censorship therefore influences not only what is visible on screen but also what remains unrealized or unsaid the role of propaganda and censorship is not as obvious as it may seem at times it is subtle other times it appears obvious ma 2016 this duality defines contemporary chinese cinema where censorship functions as both a visible mechanism of control and an invisible pervasive constraint as chinese cinema extends outward to the world what defines it is not narrative or aesthetic but the omnipresent state hand while audiences see the final product on screen they rarely recognize the compromises concessions and acts of self censorship that shaped its creation what is left out or hidden can be as revealing as what is seen illuminating an artistic process as much defined by exclusion as by disclosure
