this is the first book to focus on international efforts to address syrian chemical weapons issues in an international law context it provides an overview of the process of control over syrian compliance non compliance with international obligations including the keys to success in eliminating syria s stockpiles and reasons for difficulties in handling multiple uses of toxic chemicals as weapons in domestic armed conflicts it also addresses collective and unilateral sanctions against syria outside of international institutional frameworks and their implications for subsequent cases supported by extensive analyses of developments within the opcw executive council and the un security council this book is recommended for readers seeking insight about chemical weapons issues and dynamism of international law in 2012 a 20 year moratorium on state employment of chemical weapons use was broken since then there have been more than 200 uses against civilians military targets and political enemies these attacks have broken norms against the use of weapons of mass destruction and create a gap in the nonproliferation fabric despite the robust international architecture of laws treaties agreements and norms designed to restrain the proliferation and use of these weapons accountability for these recent attacks has been limited or nonexistent which threatens the credibility of the nonproliferation regime and only encourages further use leaders must find the political and moral strength to use a full spectrum of tools to reestablish this system of restraint by understanding the system built on taboos norms deterrence and a lack of benefits and corresponding accountability approaches military legal political diplomatic economic and educational leaders can utilize a menu of potential actions for building more diverse flexible scalable and implementable options to hold accountable users of chemical weapons
