socrates c 470 399 bc was a classical greek philosopher credited as one of the founders of western philosophy and as being the first moral philosopher of the western ethical tradition of thought in 399 bc socrates went on trial and was subsequently found guilty of both corrupting the minds of the youth of athens and of impiety not believing in the gods of the state and as a punishment sentenced to death caused by the drinking of a mixture containing poison hemlock this collection written by plato his student recounts the final days of socrates life in four different books euthyphro is a socratic dialog whose events took place weeks before the trial of socrates the dialogue covers subjects such as the meaning of piety and justice and takes place near the court of the king magistrate for preliminary hearings of a possible trial the apology of socrates is the socratic dialogue that depicts the trial and presents his speech of legal self defence crito depicts a conversation between socrates and his wealthy friend crito regarding justice and the appropriate response to injustice socrates thinks that injustice may not be answered with injustice and refuses crito s offer to finance his escape from prison the dialogue contains an ancient statement of the social contract theory of government phaedo is set in the last hours prior to the death of socrates the philosophical subject of the dialogue is the immortality of the soul in the dialogue socrates discusses the nature of the afterlife on his last day before being executed by drinking hemlock a must add collection that belongs in every bookshelf plato s account of socrates trial and death in 399 bc represents a significant moment in western literature as well as a watershed in the life of ancient athens in these four dialogues plato develops the socratic belief in responsibility for one s self and shows socrates condemned to suicide by his fellow athenians living and dying under his own philosophy in euthyphro socrates debates goodness outside the courthouse apology sees him in court rebutting all charges of impiety in crito he refuses an entreaty to escape from prison and in phaedo socrates faces his impending death with calmness and a skillful discussion of immortality a new version of plato s four part discourse extolling socrates brilliance plato s account of socrates trial and execution in 399 bc marks a turning point in western literature as well as in ancient athens way of life in these four dialogues plato elaborates on the socratic notion of personal accountability and illustrates how socrates who was ordered by his fellow athenians to commit suicide lived and died in accordance with his own philosophy in euthyphro socrates engages in a discussion about goodness outside the courtroom in apology he defends himself against all accusations of impiety in crito he rejects a plea to be let out of prison and in phaedo he approaches death with composure and an insightful discussion of eternity the trial and death of socrates includes the four platonic dialogues euthyphro apology crito and phaedo in the euthyphro socrates is awaiting his trial for impiety but before the trial begins plato would like to put the world on their trial and convince them of ignorance in that very matter touching which socrates is accused an incident which may perhaps really have occurred in the family of euthyphro a learned athenian diviner and soothsayer furnishes the occasion of the discussion in what relation the apology of plato stands to the real defence of socrates there are no means of determining it certainly agrees in tone and character with the description of xenophon who says in the memorabilia that socrates might have been acquitted if in any moderate degree he would have conciliated the favour of the dicasts and who informs us in another passage on the testimony of hermogenes the friend of socrates that he had no wish to live and that the divine sign refused to allow him to prepare a defence and also that socrates himself declared this to be unnecessary on the ground that all his life long he had been preparing against that hour the crito seems intended to exhibit the character of socrates in one light only not as the philosopher fulfilling a divine mission and trusting in the will of heaven but simply as the good citizen who having been unjustly condemned is willing to give up his life in obedience to the laws of the state the art of concealing art is nowhere more perfect than in those writings of plato which describe the trial and death of socrates their charm is their simplicity which gives them verisimilitude and yet they touch as if incidentally and because they were suitable to the occasion on some of the deepest truths of philosophy there is nothing in any tragedy ancient or modern nothing in poetry or history with one exception like the last hours of socrates in plato the master could not be more fitly occupied at such a time than in discoursing of immortality nor the disciples more divinely consoled the arguments taken in the spirit and not in the letter are our arguments and socrates by anticipation may be even thought to refute some eccentric notions current in our own age for there are philosophers among ourselves who do not seem to understand how much stronger is the power of intelligence or of the best than of atlas or mechanical force how far the words attributed to socrates were actually uttered by him we forbear to ask for no answer can be given to this question and it is better to resign ourselves to the feeling of a great work than to linger among critical uncertainties translations of four major works of ancient greek literature which treat the life and thought of socrates focusing particularly on his trial and defense and on the charges against him
