how it all started it all started or i guess you could say it did on the last week of summer when most kids would be ending their vacations at the beach or getting back home from visiting their relatives and of course dreading the thought of the coming of the new school year however some are not quite as lucky in that area as others are like those who attended the same school as the main character of this book it was on that day that a thirteen year old boy woke up and stared out of the window of his small bleak room his skin was a light brown almost caramel complexion and his hair was short and black pressed down against his scalp his eyes were a dark brown with a ring of black edged around the pupil if you looked closely in the center of the darkness there was a small spark of golden light barely noticeable like staring at the heart of the universe through an infinite expanse of space

how far would you go to win over the woman you love the picturesque village of east upbury still looks much as it did a century ago but middle class professionals have long since replaced the agricultural workers who once lived there when the villagers decide to stage an open air summer production to commemorate the centenary of the tragic events that occurred there during the great war rivalries quickly emerge the director intends her production to be authentic but her vision conflicts with the nostalgic view of the past held by influential village factions toby has never harboured any desire to appear on stage but has always been fascinated by the history of the great war he supports all the director's plans and is delighted to be appointed as stage manager however he finds it difficult to focus on his responsibilities because of his fascination with sarah a visitor to the village who is helping him backstage sarah appears to like him but the demands of the production mean that whenever they secure any time together events conspire to interrupt them as the last night of the production approaches disaster strikes when one of the actors disappears this forces toby to confront his fears and decide exactly how far he is willing to go to win over sarah before she returns to london by turns tragic comic historic and pastoral the woman in the wings shows that a tragic history can sometimes repeat itself as romantic comedy
