there is no denying that the rules and enforcement mechanisms of investment law and arbitration reach deep into the regulatory and policy space of host states investment tribunals have the ability to second guess all variety of state measures and in doing so have displayed a remarkable lack of restraint despite investment law s muscularity without equal in international law the prevailing orthodoxy treats investment law as a defensible and just restraint on government and politics this volume helps to correct the prevailing view rethinking investment law illustrates how investment law protections for foreign investors constrains states and over compensates investors it offers a more balanced vision of how international law can protect all those affected not just foreign investors an expert set of contributors explain both the conventional law and its limitations their analysis shows that doctrines now widely entrenched in orthodox accounts of investment law could have taken and could still take a different turn they offer a more respectful approach to states roles and responsibilities to enact laws in the public interest this text will be an illuminating read for students and academics in areas such as investment law and international economic law it provides cutting edge analysis for researchers practitioners and students seeking to understand and question the usual standards of treatment under investment treaties this book attempts to reconcile the concept of free trade with a key non trade social value cultural diversity in an era of economic globalisation it first shows how we can look at culture in many different ways and explains why we should care about cultural diversity the book then examines the challenges that policymakers are faced with in formulating cultural measures in the new media environment and analyses unesco s theories and approaches to cultural diversity this is followed by a comprehensive examination of the treatment of culture in global and regional trade agreements including the framework of the gatt wto system the wto s judicial practice involving cultural products and the treatment of culture under the ec eu and nafta this identifies the challenges trade norms encounter in dealing with cultural products the author seeks to formulate a balanced view of the challenge of protecting and promoting cultural diversity while also recognising the important goal of trade liberalisation to this end professor shi proposes a dual method through which the norms found in wto agreements and in unesco cultural instruments may be brought into alignment the first highlighting the compatibility of cultural policy measures with trade obligations on a domestic level the second suggesting potential linkages between the wto rules and the unesco convention from the perspectives of treaty interpretation
