andrea cauduro andrea di nicola marco lombardi and paolo ruspini client have you ever had a by an albanian researcher no client you should have one they re great i ll tell you something between an exploited girl and a free one i choose the exploited one because a girl who s being exploited has to give money to her pimp otherwise she ll be beaten the others when they ve earned enough they stop working the exploited ones no even they don t want to work they have to stay there and if they don t pay the pimp they re beaten if you think about it you notice it is more a help than anything else we all know they re exploited so it s better to go with them otherwise they ll be slaughtered these two tough excerpts from interviews with clients of foreign prostitution stress the core point of this work there seems to be a different view a different logic that moves these men in their search for commercial sex this is the focus of the discussion and the main reason for this volume we have attempted to study the phenomenon of trafficking from a different and innovative perspective the demand trafficking in human beings for sexual exploitation and not only has involved all the european union and more in general western european countries in the past twenty years human trafficking a comprehensive exploration into modern day slavery examines the legal socio cultural historical and political aspects of human trafficking and modern day slavery while most texts only cover sex trafficking and labor trafficking this text takes a more inclusive approach provide coverage of what is currently known about organ trafficking child marriage and child soldiers as well these topics are explored within the borders of the united states as well as across the world the reality is that this problem is not limited to one country or even one continent technology and globalization have made this an international crisis that requires a collaborative and cooperative international response the goal of this text is to provide an accurate understanding of all forms of human trafficking and current responses to this crime human trafficking is widely considered to be the fastest growing branch of trafficking as this important book reveals it has moved rapidly up the agenda of states and international organisations since the early 1990s not only because of this growth but also as its implications for security and human rights have become clearer this fascinating study by international experts provides original research findings on human trafficking with particular reference to europe south east asia and australia a major focus is on why and how many states and organisations act in ways that undermine trafficked victims rights as part of quadruple victimisation it compares and contrasts policies and suggests which seem to work best and why the contributors also advocate radical new approaches that most states and other formal organisations appear loath to introduce for reasons that are explored in this unique book this edited volume modern slavery and human trafficking is a collection of reviewed and relevant research chapters offering a comprehensive overview of recent developments in the field of modern slavery and human trafficking the book comprises single chapters authored by various researchers and edited by an expert active in the aforementioned research area each chapter is complete in itself but united under a common research study topic this publication aims at providing a thorough overview of the latest research efforts by international authors on modern slavery and human trafficking and opening new possible research paths for further novel developments trafficking in persons is a serious crime that affects the human rights dignity and integrity of all its victims including women men and children in the association of southeast asia nation asean region asean has made efforts to fight human trafficking through inter alia the establishment of regional counter human trafficking laws and human rights bodies to establish best norms and practices for its member countries nevertheless the international labour organization ilo recently declared that there are more than 11 7 million forced labor victims in the asia pacific region encompassing the biggest concentration of forced labour victims in the world this volume reviews the achievements and the deficiencies of asean s counter human strategies at the national and regional level it offers suggestions for the reform of asean s anti trafficking laws and for the creation of a regional anti trafficking human rights body specialized in preventing human trafficking promoting equal protection of all trafficking victims and prosecuting human traffickers this unprecedented study of sex trafficking forced labor organ trafficking and sex tourism across twenty four nations highlights the experiences of the victims perpetrators and anti traffickers involved in this brutal trade combining statistical data with intimate accounts and interviews journalist stephanie hepburn and justice scholar rita j simon create a dynamic volume sure to educate and spur action hepburn and simon recount the lives of victims during and after their experience with trafficking and they follow the activities of traffickers before capture and their outcomes after sentencing each chapter centers on the trafficking practices and anti trafficking measures of a single country australia brazil canada chile china colombia france germany india iran iraq israel italy japan mexico niger poland russia south africa syria thailand the united arab emirates the united kingdom and the united states examining these nations laws hepburn and simon reveal gaps in legislation and enforcement and outline the cultural norms and biases societal assumptions and conflicting policies that make trafficking scenarios so pervasive and resilient this study points out those most vulnerable in each nation and the specific cultural economic environmental and geopolitical factors that contribute to each nation s trafficking issues furthermore the study also highlights common phenomena that governments and international anti traffickers should consider in their fight against this illicit trade leading social scientists and historians debate key controversies in the field of modern slavery and human trafficking studies the last few decades have seen a huge increase in attention paid to the trafficking of human beings often referred to as modern day slavery international and national policies and protocols have been developed and billions of dollars spent to combat the issue and protect trafficking victims yet it continues to flourish and human beings in both the global north and the global south continue to be degraded to the level of commodities and smuggled across borders for profit drawing upon feminist and human rights approaches to trafficking this book links the worlds of policy protocols and social structures to the lived experience and conditions of trafficked people recognizing that trafficking for sex labor and body parts often overlaps in a broader context shaped by poverty violence and shrinking access to rights the authors offer a more thoroughgoing account of this social problem only with such an integrated approach can we understand the exploitative conditions that make people vulnerable to trafficking and the progress as well as gaps in initiatives seeking to address it examining transnational crime human trafficking and its implications for human security from both western and asian perspectives this book assesses the extent of the problem outlines how it is perceived differently in different countries and the diverse social and legal policy reactions which have developed to address these issues der vorliegende band ist zu verstehen als machtvoller appell für die würde des menschen und für ein aktives vorgehen gegen deren massivstes verletzen wie es der internationale menschenhandel darstellt denn der respekt vor der menschenwürde und die menschenrechte sind heute durch organisierte kriminalität gespeist von globaler armut weltweit bedroht in der diskussion über menschenwürde steckt aber auch die vision bestehende mängel zu beseitigen insofern wünschen sich die herausgeberinnen einen breiten diskurs zum thema menschenhandel sklaverei und zwangsprostitution human trafficking and the related problems of organised crime and prostitution has become a serious problem for post soviet countries since the dissolution of the soviet union human trafficking has a major impact on the countries of origin the destination countries and the countries of transit and is a concern for those studying population and migration economics politics international relations and security studies this book examines human trafficking from post soviet countries exploring the full extent of the problem and discussing countermeasures both local and at the global level and considering the problem in all its aspects it focuses in particular on the experiences of the baltic sea region setting out the nature of organised crime and the full range of threats against society with over 40 million people still enslaved around the world this book takes a closer look at the role of culture in society and how certain practices beliefs or behaviors may be fueling human trafficking beyond what the law can curtail the study reveals cultural elements that conflict with existing anti human trafficking laws across three case studies united states india and costa rica there is no simple answer or a single solution to stop or significantly reduce the crime but a pragmatic multi disciplinary and human rights approach to the problem may bring to light that efforts to curtail human trafficking will be in vain if we rely on law alone a fundamental shift in culture is imperative the sage handbook of human trafficking and modern day slavery provides a comprehensive interdisciplinary and global look at the diverse issues surrounding human trafficking and slavery in the post 1945 environment throughout the world vulnerable people are being deceived into entering abusive journeys whether in the organ trade exploitative labour businesses or forced criminality their lives will never be the same this book traces the journey of victims survivors of modern slavery and human trafficking into and within the uk from recruitment to representation to re integration using global comparative case studies it discusses recruitment tactics and demand prevention in supply chains issues with effective legal protection and care services and vulnerability to re trafficking it also examines the ideological misrepresentation of vulnerable migrants and victims survivors in media the film industry legislation and more rooted in diverse practitioner experience disciplines and empirical research this book bridges the experience research practice policy gap by bringing to the fore survivors voices in doing so it offers crucial suggestions for better public awareness policies and practices that will impact interventions in the uk and beyond gridlock explores how migrant workers actual experiences in dubai contrast with the typical discussions and global moral panic about human trafficking reveals how accepted representations of human trafficking simplified by the media and even by governments and ngos seeking to stop slavery are incorrect inadequate and harmful deeply researched and scrupulously even handed this work provides readers with a clear and accurate understanding of human trafficking and related issues related to socioeconomic inequality human rights and international law in doing so it exposes falsehoods half truths and distortions about trafficking that have gained traction in america s political and cultural discourse when warranted it also confirms the veracity of other claims about the nature and infrastructure of trafficking networks and the harrowing experiences of women men and children trapped in those dehumanizing systems special areas of focus include chapters devoted to quantifying the scope and reach of human trafficking around the world prosecution and prevention strategies the experiences of trafficking survivors and the important role they play in anti trafficking efforts and the successes and failures of anti trafficking initiatives carried out by governments and law enforcement agencies around the world
