sara r farris examines the demands for women's rights from an unlikely collection of right wing nationalist political parties neoliberals and some feminist theorists and policy makers focusing on contemporary france italy and the netherlands farris labels this exploitation and co optation of feminist themes by anti islam and xenophobic campaigns as femonationalism she shows that by characterizing muslim males as dangerous to western societies and as oppressors of women and by emphasizing the need to rescue muslim and migrant women these groups use gender equality to justify their racist rhetoric and policies this practice also serves an economic function farris analyzes how neoliberal civic integration policies and feminist groups funnel muslim and non western migrant women into the segregating domestic and caregiving industries all the while claiming to promote their emancipation in the name of women's rights documents the links between racism feminism and the ways in which non western women are instrumentalized for a variety of political and economic purposes
