this book argues that many of the most prominent features of oral epic poetry in a number of traditions can best be understood as adaptations or stylizations of conversational language use and advances the claim that if we can understand how conversation is structured it will aid our understanding of oral traditions in this study that carefully compares the special grammar of oral traditions to the grammar of everyday conversation as understood in the field of conversation analysis raymond person demonstrates that traditional phraseology including formulaic language is an adaptation of practices in turn construction in conversation such as sound selection of words and prosody and that thematic structures are adaptations of sequence organization in talk in interaction from this he concludes that the special grammar of oral traditions can be understood as an example of institutional talk that exaggerates certain conversational practices for aesthetic purposes and that draws from cognitive resources found in everyday conversation person s research will be of interest to conversation analysts as well as literary scholars especially those interested in ancient and medieval literature the comparative study of oral traditions and folklore and linguistic approaches to literature this volume lays the groundwork for further interdisciplinary work bridging the fields of literature and linguistics
