this is a book about contemporary literary and artistic entanglements word and image media and materiality inscription and illustration it proposes a vulnerable fugitive mode of reading poetry which defies disciplinary categorisations embracing the open endedness and provisionality of forms this manifests itself interactively in the six case studies which have been chosen for their distinctness and diversity across the long twentieth century the book begins with the early twentieth century work of writer and artist djuna barnes exploring her re animation of sculptural and dramatic sources it then turns to the late modernist artist and poet david jones considering his use of the graphic and plastic arts in the anathemata and next to the underappreciated mid century poet f t prince whose work uncannily re activates michelangelo s poetry and sculpture the second half of the book explores the collaborations of the canonical poet ted hughes with the publisher and artist leonard baskin during the 1970s the innovative late twentieth century poetry of denise riley who uses page space and embodied sound as a form of address and finally the contemporary poet paul muldoon who has collaborated with photographers and artists as well as ventriloquising nonhuman phenomena the resulting unique study offers contemporary writers and readers a new understanding of literary artistic and nonhuman practices and shows the cultural importance of engaging with their messy co dependencies the book challenges critical methodologies that make a sharp division between the textual work and the extra literary and raises urgent questions about the status and autonomy of art and its social role the images in the book of revelation confound even the most seasoned of interpreters in this book andrew r guffey argues that part of the confusion stems from the fact that the book of revelation was first and foremost a work to be seen but that few interpreters address the visuality of the book the book of revelation and the visual culture of asia minor describes a connection between rhetorical discussions of ekphrasis visual culture and john s images a concurrence of images using theory and thick historical description guffey s analysis situates the text and its rhetorical performativity in the context of ancient visual and rhetorical culture arguing that revelation is not merely a work of literary craft but also of visual culture we live in a visual age images and visual artefacts shape international events and our understanding of them photographs film and television influence how we view and approach phenomena as diverse as war diplomacy financial crises and election campaigns other visual fields from art and cartoons to maps monuments and videogames frame how politics is perceived and enacted drones satellites and surveillance cameras watch us around the clock and deliver images that are then put to political use add to this that new technologies now allow for a rapid distribution of still and moving images around the world digital media platforms such as twitter youtube facebook and instagram play an important role across the political spectrum from terrorist recruitment drives to social justice campaigns this book offers the first comprehensive engagement with visual global politics written by leading experts in numerous scholarly disciplines and presented in accessible and engaging language visual global politics is a one stop source for students scholars and practitioners interested in understanding the crucial and persistent role of images in today s world gubrium and harper provide instruction in visual and digital methodologies and show how they can contribute to building a participatory public engaged ethnography international travelers will value this quick reference vocabulary and phrase builder hundreds of color photos and cartoon style illustrations present visual images of words and phrases that travelers typically need when they are getting around in italy here s how to ask for gasoline when driving into a service station with pictures and bilingual phrases and answers to dramatize the situation here too are words and pictures depicting all kinds of food and drink a pineapple a mug of cold beer a sandwich a fresh apple the book is color coded along page edges according to topics to help travelers find what they re looking for in a hurry general topics include transportation accommodations food shopping department store shopping furniture and appliances sports and recreation and many others this good looking book also makes a handy reference source for language students
