university of würzburg philosophische fakultät i course feminism in the u s history ideas and politics language english abstract bewitched by the magical atmosphere these films create millions of girls are dreaming of becoming a disney princess one day seeing girls and boys re enact these fairy tales and in that way slip into the role of a princess the thought struck me in the context of my seminar about feminism in what way these movies influence children which concepts of womanhood do they foster and are these fairy tales really as timeless as the grandparents think they are taking a closer look at the most successful and best known of all disney princess movies there are basically three waves defined by their date of release the first feature length animated film disney created was a story based on the brother grimm fairy tale schneewittchen the disney movie snow white and the seven dwarfs was premiered in 1937 and was an instant success followed by cinderella in 1950 and sleeping beauty in 1959 the next wave of princess movies were produced between 1989 starting with little mermaid followed by beauty and the beast 1991 aladdin 1992 pocahontas 1995 and ending in 1998 with mulan so basically during the 1990s the latest wave of disney princess films is from 2009 on with the princess and the frog then tangled 2010 brave 2012 and the last one was frozen 2013 this is an enormous timeframe the 1930s 40s and 50s provided a completely different audience than the 1990s or the current decade as society and especially gender roles changed a lot over time consequently one can also expect differences in the way the walt disney company chose to depict its characters over the years this research paper will show that female gender roles in disney princess movies respond to the change of society by portraying their disney heroine much more assertive and less passive over time to support this thesis one movie from each of the three waves which were introduced above will be analyzed exemplary for the period
