the volume collects the most important papers pierluigi donini wrote in the last three decades with the aim of promoting a better assessment of post hellenistic philosophy the philosophical relevance of post hellenistic philosophy is now widely though not yet universally recognized yet much remains to be done the common practice of focusing each single school in itself detracts from a balanced assessment of the strategies exploited by many philosophers of the period on the assumption that debates among schools play a major role in the philosophy of the commentators donini concentrates on the interaction between leading aristotelians and platonists and demonstrates that the developments of both systems of thought were heavily influenced by a continuous confrontation between the two schools and whereas in cases such as alcinous and aspasius this is basically uncontroversial for other authors such as alexander antiochus and plutarch the pioneering work of donini paves the way for a better understanding of their doctrines and definitely confirms the intellectual importance of the first imperial age when the foundations were laid of versions of both aristotelianism and platonism which were bound to influence the whole history of european thought from late antiquity onwards myths determine the way cultures understand themselves the papers in this volume examine culturally specific myths in britain and the german speaking world and compare approaches to the theory of myth together with the ways in which mythological formations operate in literature aesthetics and politics with a focus on the period around 1800 they enquire into the consequences of myth oriented discourses for the way in which these two cultures understand each other and in this way make a significant contribution to a more profound approach to intercultural research
