this is an indispensable work for lovers of photography and admirers of henri cartier bresson whose influence continues to endure so powerfully today in addition to some of his best known photographs here are many seldom seen or unpublished images and some rarities in colour as well as black and white this is an indispensable work for lovers of photography and admirers of henri cartier bresson whose influence continues to endure so powerfully today his work embraced art politics revolution and war but more powerful than any of these overarching themes was his evident concern for the human individual at every social level cartier bresson's observations of the effects of poverty and revolution around the world led directly to his pioneering photojournalism and his co-founding of magnum photos he also became renowned for his penetrating portraits of the most prominent figures of his time cartier bresson's biographer pierre assouline called him the eye of the century a must for lovers of photography the mail on sunday eastern approaches to western film asian aesthetics and reception in cinema offers a renewed critical outlook on western classic film directly from the pantheon of european and american masters including alfred hitchcock george lucas robert bresson carl dreyer jean pierre melville john ford leo mccarey sam peckinpah and orson welles the book contributes an eastern approach into the critical studies of western films by reappraising selected films of these masters matching and comparing their visions themes and ideas with the philosophical and paradigmatic principles of the east it traces eastern inscriptions and signs embedded within these films as well as their social lifestyle values and other concepts that are also inherently eastern as such the book represents an effort to reformulate established discourses on western cinema that are overwhelmingly eurocentric although it seeks to inject an alternative perspective the ultimate aim is to reach a balance of east and west by focusing on eastern aesthetic and philosophical influences in western films the book suggests that there is a much more thorough integration of east and west than previously thought or imagined understanding barthes understanding modernism is a general assessment of the modern literary and philosophical contributions of roland barthes the first part of the volume focuses on work published prior to barthes's death in 1980 covering the major periods of his development from writing degree zero 1953 to camera lucida reflections on photography 1980 the second part focuses both on the posthumously published material and the legacies of his work after his death in 1980 this later work has attracted attention for example in conjunction with notions of the neutral gay writing and critiques of everyday life the third part is devoted to some of the critical vocabulary of barthes in both the work he published during his lifetime and that which was published posthumously the definitive biography of the greatest photographer of modern times a vital addition to the library of everyone with an interest in photography henri cartier bresson was the eye of the 20th century his lens chronicled the decisive moments of his time from chinese communist victories to the spanish civil war and the liberation of paris a co-founder of magnum photos cartier bresson produced unparalleled portraits of his contemporaries capturing the spirit of albert camus jean paul sartre and william faulkner cartier bresson took pierre assouline into his confidence over a number of years detailing his youthful devotion to surrealism lifelong passion for drawing and experiences of war and prison camps this sensitive biography emerges from a meeting of two minds revealed with the same truth as one of cartier bresson s photographs for more than half a century now scholars have debated over what comprises a genuinely religious film one that evinces an authentic manifestation of the sacred often these scholars do so by pitting the successful films against those which propagate an inauthentic spiritual experience with the biblical spectacular serving as their most notorious candidate this book argues that what makes a filmic manifestation of the sacred true or authentic may say more about a spectator or critic s particular way of knowing as influenced by alphabetic literacy than it does about the aesthetic or philosophical and sometimes even faith based dimensions of the sacred onscreen engaging with everything from hollywood religious spectacles hindu mythologicals and an international array of films revered for their transcendental style the sacred and the cinema unveils the epistemic pressures at the heart of engaging with the sacred onscreen the book also provides a valuable summation of the history of the sacred as a field of study particularly as that field intersects with film
