edited and introduced by stephen edred flowers ph d this book opens the gate to the use of the authentic hermetic formulas concealed in the magical papyri of egypt students can use this information as a basis for developing and enacting their own magical systems organized in four parts history theory practice and operation in the form of the magical papyrus of abaris illustrated glossary index the egyptians worshipped their own gods with particular rituals this translation of the magical papyrus of abaris shows modern seekers how to perform their own ritual celebrations of life the great diversity of contexts in which the term postmodernism is currently encountered reflects the remarkable success of a coinage that has been in circulation for only about forty years it has been used by philosophers sociologists art critics and literary historians to become finally a household word in the language of advertising and politics before letting it fade to a derelict cliché an attempt is made in this volume of essays to use its potential as a cultural concept for the analysis and understanding of contemporary literature and thought the virgilian tradition ii brings together thirteen essays by historian craig kallendorf the essays present a distinctive approach to the reception of the canonical classical author virgil that is focused around the early printed books through which that author was read and interpreted within early modern culture using the prefaces dedicatory letters and commentaries that accompanied the early modern editions of virgil s eclogues georgics aeneid and appendix virgiliana they demonstrate how this paratextual material was used by early readers to develop a more nuanced interpretation of virgil s writings than twentieth century scholars believed they were capable of the approach developed throughout this volume shows how the emerging field of book history can enrich our understanding of the reception of greek and latin authors this book will appeal to scholars and students of early modern history as well as those interested in book history and cultural history cs 1103 john barth s eminence as a postmodernist is indisputable however much of the criticism dealing with his work is prompted by his own theories of exhaustion and subsequent replenishment leaving his writing relatively untouched by theories of postmodernism in general this book changes that by focusing on the relationship between barth s aesthetic and the ideology critique of the historical avant gardes which were the first to mobilize art against itself and its institutional practices and demands examining barth s metafictional parodies in the light of theories of space and subjectivity clavier engages the question of ideology critique in postmodernism by offering the montage as a possible model for understanding barth s fiction in such a light postmodernism may well be perceived as a mimesis of reality particularly a recognition of the collective nature of self and the world from her seminal eros the bittersweet 1986 to her experimental float 2016 bakkhai 2017 and norma jeane baker of troy 2019 anne carson s engagement with antiquity has been deeply influential to generations of readers both inside and outside of academia one reason for her success is the versatile scope of her classically oriented oeuvre which she rethinks across multiple media and categories yet an equally significant reason is her profile as a classicist in this role carson unfailingly refuses to conform to the established conventions and situated practices of her discipline in favour of a mode of reading classical literature that allows for interpretative and creative freedom from a multi praxis cross disciplinary perspective the volume explores the erudite indiscipline of carson s classicism as it emerges in her poetry translations essays and visual artistry it argues that her classicism is irreducible to a single vision and that it is best approached as integral to the protean character of her artistic thought anne carson antiquity collects twenty essays by poets translators artists practitioners and scholars it offers the first collective study of the author s classicism while drawing attention to one of the most avant garde multifaceted readings of the classical past these manuscripts could date as early as the late first century ad in new testament manuscript research it has been the habit of biblical scholars for some years to use the second century ad as a convenient chronological dumping ground for manuscripts that are difficult to date perhaps it is time to investigate this dumping ground and it would not surprise me if one or several of these manuscripts could date as early as the late first century ad which would make them first generation copies of the gospel autographs themselves in these pages curt fletemier demonstrates how this could indeed be the case paul l maier russel h seibert professor of ancient history emeritus western michigan university

ezra pound the poet called the contemporary of our grandchildren has exercised enormous influence on the development of american poetry and criticism this impact on the world of letters is only grudgingly acknowledged today since it comes from a poet tainted by fascism and anti semitism this book follows the contours of our love for his poetics and hate for his politics juxtaposing pound s work to postmodern theory the contrasts prevail in the relation of language to reality in the moral and political commitments and in the vision of history at the same time pound s poetic practices particularly his collage techniques and series of englishes overflowed his political ideology it is this overflow that makes him so fascinating to intellectuals and the main reason we study his work with respect now what does this mean is a seminary level introduction to hermeneutics drawing especially on the lutheran theological tradition to define and shape the tasks of interpretation in parts 1 and 2 voelz describes the major issues and methods of textual criticism semantics and pragmatics in the final section he offers insights for reading scripture from a confessional position archaeology is intimately connected to the modern regime of vision a concern with optics was fundamental to the scientific revolution and informed the moral theories of the enlightenment and from its inception archaeology was concerned with practices of depiction and classification that were profoundly scopical in character drawing on both the visual arts and the depictive practices of the sciences employing conventionalised forms of illustration photography and spatial technologies archaeology presents a paradigm of visualised knowledge however a number of thinkers from jean paul sartre onwards have cautioned that vision presents at once a partial and a politicised way of apprehending the world in this volume authors from archaeology and other disciplines address the problems that face the study of the past in an era in which realist modes of representation and the philosophies in which they are grounded in are increasingly open to question a classic account which when written in 1977 was the first to define post modernism in architecture an event which led to subsequent adoption of the term in many other fields it is the story of the failure of modern architecture to communicate with its users and the attempt of post modernists to overcome this failure with a richer more widely shared language post modern classicism this edition 5th in 1987 brings the account and the great illustrations up to date 101 4x121 2 annotation copyrighted by book news inc portland or
