histoire d'une jeunesse restitue le temps perdu des souvenirs d'enfance entre 1905 et 1921 le récit de cette éducation traverse l'Europe centrale du début du siècle insouciante et joyeuse avec ses hôtels luxueux ses collèges cosmopolites ses milieux de riches commerçants avant que l'Occident ne s'éteigne soudain dans les déflagrations de la guerre de 14 avec tendresse, gravité et humour. Canetti fidèle à la mémoire des premières images de sa vie évoque les années lointaines passées au bord du Danube lorsqu'il entendait la plainte des loups affamés. C'était un temps sans peur, un temps heureux, celui de l'innocence.

This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people, institutions, organizations, publications, art, literature, languages, and history. It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities. These large divisions are then broken down by subject, genre, type of document, and province or territory. Titles of national, provincial, territorial, or regional interest are included in every subject area when available. The contents of the book are indexed four ways by name, title, French subject, and English subject, and to facilitate browsing, the major reference books those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region are also cross-referenced. Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages. Entries for unilingual works include an citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation. The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content, arrangements, and indexing of works. The availability of non-print formats, previous editions, and title changes and related works. Canadian reference sources will be an invaluable referencetool for future scholars and researchers the fourth volume of the collected papers of the icla congress the many languages of comparative literature includes articles that study thematic and formal elements of literary texts although the question of prioritizing either the level of content or that of form has often provoked controversies most contributions here treat them as internally connected while theoretical considerations inform many of the readings the main interest of most articles can be described as rhetorical in the widest sense given that the ancient discipline of rhetoric did not only include the study of rhetorical figures and tropes such as metaphor irony or satire but also that of topoi which were originally viewed as the places where certain arguments could be found but later came to represent the arguments or intellectual themes themselves another feature shared by most of the articles is the tendency of undeclared thematology which not only reflects the persistence of the charge of positivism but also shows that most scholars prefer to locate themselves within more specific often interdisciplinary fields of literary study in this sense this volume does not only prove the ongoing relevance of traditional fields such as rhetoric and thematology but provides contributions to currently flourishing research areas among them literary multilingualism literature and emotions and ecocriticism
