the human development report 2005 examines the scale of the challenge facing the world at the start of the ten year countdown to the 2015 millennium development goals mark the report focuses on three pillars of cooperation each of which is in urgent need of renovation the first pillar is international aid the millennium development goals mdgs project has been compromised by chronic and sustained under financing allied to problems in aid quality the second pillar is international trade under the right conditions trade can act as a powerful catalyst for human development the development round of world trade organization talks launched in 2001 provided northern governments with an opportunity to create those conditions the third pillar is that of security violent conflict is a source of systematic human rights violation and a barrier to progress towards the mdgs that must be overcome two rabbis visiting palestine in 1897 observed that the land was like a bride beautiful but married to another man by which they meant that if a place was to be found for israel in palestine where would the people of palestine go this is a dilemma that israel has never been able to resolve no conflict today is more dangerous than that between israel and the palestinians the implications it has for regional and global security cannot be overstated the peace process as we know it is dead and no solution is in sight nor as this book argues will that change until everyone involved in finding a solution accepts the real causes of conflict and its consequences on the ground leading writer ghada karmi explains in fascinating detail the difficulties israel s existence created for the arab world and why the search for a solution has been so elusive ultimately she argues that the conflict will end only once the needs of both arabs and israelis are accommodated equally her startling conclusions overturn conventional thinking but they are hard to refute since the end of the cold war globalization has brought new actors to the political arena one of those which has attracted considerable attention in academic research is civil society or ngos claudia kissling addresses the topic of civil society participation in the nuclear non proliferation regime the regime qualifies well for this objective since it features given its characteristics as a treaty regime in the international security field notable legal avenues for civil society participation the study takes on a twofold perspective it addresses the empirical question of whether civil society can contribute to the evolution of regimes in the security field especially when it comes to security cooperation it also questions whether civil society can under certain conditions contribute to the democratic quality of international decision making here empirical findings are used in order to test normative political theories on the legitimacy and democracy of global institutions
