in recent years funding agencies like the institute of educational sciences and the national science foundation have increasingly emphasized large scale studies with experimental and quasi experimental designs looking for objective truths educational researchers have recently begun to use large scale studies to understand what really works from developing interventions to validation studies of the intervention and then to efficacy studies and the final scale up for large implementation of an intervention moreover modeling student learning developmentally taking into account cohort factors issues of socioeconomics local political context and the presence or absence of interventions requires the use of large data sets wherein these variables can be sampled adequately and inferences made inroads in quantitative methods have been made in the psychometric and sociometric literatures but these methods are not yet common knowledge in the mathematics education community in fact currently there is no volume devoted to discussion of issues related to large scale studies and to report findings from them this volume is unique as it directly discusses methodological issue in large scale studies and reports empirical data from large scale studies educational reforms and standards have been a topic of public debate for decades with the latest go round being the state common core curriculum standards but time and again those reforms have failed and each set of standards no matter how new and different has had little impact on improving student achievement why the textbooks textbooks sell based on design and superficial features not because they are based on the latest research on how children learn and how well they promote student achievement in tyranny of the textbook beverlee jobrack retired from educational publishing sheds light on why this happens she gives an engaging and fascinating look behind the scenes of how k 12 textbooks are developed written adopted and sold and perhaps most importantly she clearly spells out how the system can change so that reforms and standards have a shot at finally being effective did you know reform efforts have focused on writing and rewriting standards and tests but these rarely have any effect on the core curriculum that is published school districts and states don t use effectiveness as a criterion for evaluating and purchasing textbooks publishers don t offer textbooks with better content or the latest teaching methods because teachers don t want textbooks that require them to change their practices teachers report that they don t rely on a textbook in their class but research shows that they do three companies publish 75 percent of the k 12 educational materials those three companies are producing similar programs with the same instructional strategies none of which require teachers to change their practices significantly publishers write textbooks for california and texas all of the other markets have to make do with books only superficially adjusted for their states
