conflicts in western societies have been on the rise and not just since the financial crisis of 2008 this is generally explained in economic terms with growing disparities in wealth and income the left should benefit from this with its redistribution philosophy however the right is on the upswing even though its neoliberalism is fueling social conflicts how is that behind the economic tensions lies a deep crisis of meaning the right is exploiting this by offering simplistic set pieces of meaning with success because people strive for nothing so much as meaning in their own lives the example of the usa shows how neoliberalism destroys people and societies possible solutions also come from there in late 1888 only weeks before his final collapse into madness nietzsche 1844 1900 set out to compose his autobiography and ecce homo remains one of the most intriguing yet bizarre examples of the genre ever written in this extraordinary work nietzsche traces his life work and development as a philosopher examines the heroes he has identified with struggled against and then overcome schopenhauer wagner socrates christ and predicts the cataclysmic impact of his forthcoming revelation of all values both self celebrating and self mocking penetrating and strange ecce homo gives the final definitive expression to nietzsche s main beliefs and is in every way his last testament in most developed countries there is a palpable sense of confusion about the contemporary state of the world much that was taken for granted a decade or two ago is being questioned and there is a widespread urge to try and understand how we reached our present situation and where we are heading in this major new book the leading sociologist historical anthropologist and demographer emmanuel todd sheds fresh light on our current predicament by reconstructing the historical dynamics of human societies from the stone age to the present eschewing the tendency to attribute special causal significance to the economy todd develops an anthropological account of history focusing on the long term dynamics of family systems and their links to religion and ideology what he sees as the slow moving unconscious level of society in contrast to the conscious level of the economy and politics he also analyses the dramatic changes brought about by the spread of education this enables him to explain the different historical trajectories of the advanced nations and the growing divergence between them a divergence that can be observed in such phenomena as the rise of the anglosphere in the modern period the paradox of a homo americanus who is both innovative and archaic the startling electoral success of donald trump the lack of realism in the will to power shown by germany and china the emergence of stable authoritarian democracy in russia the new introversion of japan and the recent turbulent developments in europe including brexit this magisterial account of human history brings into sharp focus the massive transformations taking place in the world today and shows that these transformations have less to do with the supposedly homogenizing effects of globalization and the various reactions to it than with an ethnic diversity that is deeply rooted in the long history of human evolution
