detractors have called it the mistake on the lake it was once america s comeback city according to author j mark souther cleveland has long sought to defeat its perceived civic malaise believing in cleveland chronicles how city leaders used imagery and rhetoric to combat and at times accommodate urban and economic decline souther explores cleveland s downtown revitalization efforts its neighborhood renewal and restoration projects and its fight against deindustrialization he shows how the city reshaped its image when it was bolstered by sports team victories but cleveland was not always on the upswing southern places the city's history in the postwar context when the city and metropolitan area were divided by uneven growth in the 1970s the city suburb division was wider than ever believing in Cleveland recounts the long difficult history of a city that entered the postwar period as America's sixth largest then lost ground during a period of robust national growth but rather than tell a tale of decline southern provides a fascinating story of resilience for what some folks called the best location in the nation the need to develop connections between members of different generations is being driven by a host of trends and challenges including demographic shifts workforce shortages and multigenerational teams educational gaps caregiving demands youth and senior health and housing problems economic insecurity and rapid technological change many of these trends and challenges already under way were accelerated or exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic this handbook presents what is known about the spectrum of intergenerational initiatives in the United States and abroad the very first to do so in reference book form it addresses specifically what increases cooperation interaction or exchange between any two or more generations and how to foster the sharing of skills knowledge or experience between old and young comprising 30 chapters each written by leading experts in their field the handbook is organized around five sections cross generational relationships older adults working with younger people younger people helping older adults global perspectives on intergenerational relationships and recommendations for strengthening and sustaining the intergenerational movement

Let Adam Brandon one of America's leading activists explain the past the present and the future of American conservatism and offer advice from his unique perspective on how to bridge the generational and political divides in the United States for a better future America faces incredibly consequential choices over the direction of the nation far left Democrats who label themselves as progressives want to shatter constitutional norms and move America backward through command and control economic policies while continuing to divide us with identity politics in a Republic not a democracy Freedomworks President Adam Brandon draws on his experiences from when he was a kid in Ohio his time in post-communist Poland and his current role in Washington DC to offer perspective on the choices that America has before it he uses these experiences to provide a unique take on how to win voters with a pro growth message on economic policy drawing on the story of 2019 when America saw its lowest unemployment rate in a half century and a record low poverty rate Adam explains how we can restore America in a post COVID-19 pandemic world he highlights key policy issues like education health care and the age demographic crisis and what lawmakers can do to address these problems as president of the country's largest free market grassroots advocacy organization adam is the nation's foremost expert in effective grassroots strategy he uses this expertise to explain the importance of grassroots activists and using these committed constitutionalists to change the minds of lawmakers in the swamp a republic not a democracy is an essential resource for anyone seeking to understand the state of modern politics for anyone who wants to use grassroots activism to make a difference in the world and for anyone who wonders about what the future holds for america and its citizens during his 28 year career matthew horace rose through the ranks from a police officer working the beat to a federal agent working criminal cases in some of the toughest communities in america to a highly decorated federal law enforcement executive managing high profile investigations nationwide yet it was not until seven years into his service when horace found himself face down on the ground with a gun pointed at his head by a white fellow officer that he fully understood the racism seething within america's police departments through gut wrenching reportage on the ground research and personal accounts from interviews with police and government officials around the country horace presents an insider's examination of archaic police tactics he dissects some of the nation's most highly publicized police shootings and communities to explain how these systems and tactics have hurt the people they serve revealing the mistakes that have stoked racist policing sky high incarceration rates and an epidemic of violence horace's authority as an experienced officer as well as his obvious integrity and courage provides the book with a gravitas the washington post the black and the blue is an affirmation of the critical need for criminal justice reform all the more urgent because it comes from an insider who respects his profession yet is willing to reveal its flaws usa today this report a joint effort of the federal reserve's community affairs function and the brookings institution's metropolitan policy program examines the issue of concentrated poverty and profiles 16 high poverty communities from across the country including immigrant gateway native american urban and rural communities through these case studies the report contributes to our understanding of the dynamics of poor people living in poor communities and the policies that will be needed to bring both into the economic mainstream it is not the intention of this publication to explain poverty causation instead the goal is to add texture to our understanding of where and how concentrated poverty exists by studying new areas and by interviewing local stakeholders including residents community leaders and government representatives to understand how concentrated poverty affects
