this book examines sonic signals as something both heard internally and externally through imagination memory and direct response in doing so it explores how the mind makes sound through experience as it interprets codes on the written page and creates an internal leitmotif that then interacts with new sounds made through an aural partnership with the external world chosen and involuntary exposure to music and sound messages both friendly and antagonistic to the identity of the self it creates an argument for sound as an underlying force that links us to the world we inhabit an essential part of being in the same primal sense as the calls of birds and other inhabitants of a shared earth street argues that sound as a poetic force is part of who we are linked to our visualisation and sense of the world as idea and presence within us this incredibly interdisciplinary book will be of great interest to scholars of radio sound media and literature as well as philosophy and psychology for pastors who take seriously the commitment to incorporate the entire bible into their preaching sidney greidanus s books on preaching christ from the major genres of the old testament have been a welcome gift in his last such volume greidanus engages with the old testament genre of law and treats a book that is often seen as the most challenging of all leviticus preaching christ from leviticus reminds pastors and congregations that key christological themes priesthood sacrifice atonement holiness first originated in leviticus before they came to full flower in the new testament with the atoning sacrifice of jesus christ and his call to holiness greidanus provides the basis for fully understanding these and other themes with an exacting analysis of leviticus and then provides the foundations for ten sermons on leviticus through topics such as the burnt offering the ordained priesthood the day of atonement the sabbatical year and the year of jubilee as well as the commandments to be holy to love your neighbor and to love aliens and enemies
