i was born a slave but i never knew it till six years of happy childhood had passed away my father was a carpenter and considered so intelligent and skilful in his trade that when buildings out of the common line were to be erected he was sent for from long distances to be head workman on condition of paying his mistress two hundred dollars a year and supporting himself he was allowed to work at his trade and manage his own affairs his strongest wish was to purchase his children but though he several times offered his hard earnings for that purpose he never succeeded in complexion my parents were a light shade of brownish yellow and were termed mulattoes they lived together in a comfortable home and though we were all slaves i was so fondly shielded that i never dreamed i was a piece of merchandise trusted to them for safe keeping and liable to be demanded of them at any moment i had one brother william who was two years younger than myself a bright affectionate child originally published in 1930 this volume documents the years 1746 1757 from the perspective of an irish slave dealer nicholas owen travelling between africa and america
