many of its most violent and terrifying wars this is a condensed version of renowned historian martin gilbert s masterful examination of the century s history offering the highlights of a three volume work that covers more than three thousand pages from the invention of aviation to the rise of the internet and from events and cataclysmic changes in europe to those in asia africa and north america martin examines art literature war religion life and death and celebration and renewal across the globe and throughout this turbulent and astonishing century progress and barbarism is a provocative and challenging interpretation of twentieth century history combining a global sweep with an eye for detail and individual experiences this text provides a brief world history and aims to be absent of any ideological slant it explores developments in science and technology economics political and social developments international relations and religion and culture the basic facts about the 20th century are provided while the text weaves in sufficient analysis to enable the student to understand why major events in history have occurred from this major author comes a totally unique history of the twentieth century eschewing the traditional model for histories of this kind blow by blow political narratives typically overloaded with detail jeremy black offers us instead a brilliant thematic account of the last 100 years with the environment and the continuing strength of religious belief at its centre looking back to the 1910s and 1920s black begins with the greatest issue of all the natural environment and its destruction and moves to show how our world been transformed by urbanisation and development amazing developments took place across the century men walked on the moon the internet revolutionised communications advances in health and medicine developments in manufacturing and technology economic globalization all have changed the way different parts of the world related to each other how have these revolutionary changes impacted on religion and politics in the final sections of the book black looks at the persistence and growing extremism in religious belief how change creates instability and wars and how power blocs emerged and collapsed in response to all these developments this is twentieth century world history on a truly global scale the twentieth century world forces us to rethink the way we view the past and offers us a new way to understand the present
