offers a concise and accessible presentation of important concepts for beginning designers and experienced practitioners will appreciate its insightful and practical coverage of the relationship between building structures and interior spaces a broad range of rich illustrations communicates visual information and ploughs fertile ground for creative ideas and inspiration there are two points from which humanity may be viewed the bodily and the mental hitherto and for various reasons medicine has concerned itself almost solely with the physical side of man the result has been disappointing for necessary as it is to be acquainted with the bodily structure in health and in disease the changes that occur in the latter only represent the physical results of a process and not the means by which the damage is done now the duty of the physician is like that of the pilot to bring his patient safely into port availing himself of every agency with that one object in view therefore mind in the fullest and widest sense must be one of his chief studies originally published in 1908 this book aims at setting forth liberty personal and national not as a mere utility as is usually the case but as an a priori moral necessity the sine qua non of all true civilisation in the first three chapters of this book the elements of persuasion as a mental process are distinguished and various forms of false persuasion in individuals and groups are described it is shown how from the very nature of the process involved our persuasion of ourselves is only too apt to degenerate into self deception and how our persuasion of others may easily assume the form of a deliberate attempt to exploit their mental or moral weaknesses chapter iv indicates how the tendencies of false persuasion may be counteracted and on what lines persuasion may be rightly directed up to this point the subject is treated mainly in its psychological aspect the subsequent chapters which are closely related to and follow naturally the study of persuasion as a mental process deal with persuasion more exclusively as a form of expression in this part of the book special attention is given to such modern forms of propaganda as advertisements newspapers the cinematograph the novel and the drama issues for feb 1933 include the monthly book circle bulletin formerly the book of the month bulletin the same material issued also by james thin or henry sotheran ltd as books of the month with which is incorporated the book index monthly but omitting the monthly book circle bulletin
