for 60 years the international federation for information processing ifip has been advancing research in information and communication technology. In this book, we look into both past experiences and future perspectives using the core of ifip's competence. Its technical committees (tcs) and working groups (wgs) soon after ifip was founded established tcs and related wgs to foster the exchange and development of the scientific and technical aspects of information processing. Ifip tcs are as diverse as the different aspects of information processing but they share the following aims: to establish and maintain liaison with national and international organizations with allied interests and to foster cooperative action; collaborative research and information exchange to identify subjects and priorities for research; to stimulate theoretical work on fundamental issues and to foster fundamental research which will underpin future development; to provide a forum for professionals with a view to promoting the study, collection, exchange and dissemination of ideas, information and research findings and thereby to promote the state of the art; to seek and use the most effective ways of disseminating information about ifip's work including the organization of conferences, workshops and symposia and the timely production of relevant publications; to have special regard for the needs of developing countries and to seek practicable ways of working with them to encourage communication and to promote interaction between users, practitioners and researchers to foster interdisciplinary work and in particular to collaborate with other technical committees and working groups. The 17 contributions in this book describe the scientific, technical and further work in tcs and wgs and in many cases also assess the future consequences of the work's results. These contributions explore the developments of ifip and the ict profession now and over the next 60 years. The contributions are arranged per tc and conclude with the chapter on the ifip code of ethics and conduct.

monitoring approaches using various ai and blockchain based tools and techniques there is nothing more valuable to the success of a public internal auditor than a detailed understanding of the business the important lesson in developing business knowledge especially in the new audit universe emerging with digital transformation is that all auditors must understand that they never finish learning about business processes risks and control points in the digital era they must constantly push themselves to be motivated and learn about the business operations they audit to implement new audit approaches powered by ai in addition to obtaining up to date business information from process owners and stakeholders public auditors responsible for conducting an ai based continuous audit programme should also look inside their departments for a different perspective on business information that impacts continuous audit programme phase details and has the potential to add value it should be noted that the additional source of information begins with your individual audit experience digital skills and qualifications draft legislation intended to deliver a more efficient and transparent local audit system may not save money potentially undermines the integrity of the audit system and may fail to deliver accountability the principle of independent audit which has guided public sector audit for the last 150 years could be undermined if the bill is not amended most witnesses criticised the proposed independent auditor panels and felt that they imposed an unnecessary additional bureaucratic burden they expressed strong support for the retention of a central procurement capacity for appointing auditors to local bodies in order to deliver best value on audit fees the legislation also has some gaping holes that pose significant risks unless stronger safeguards are put into the legislation whistleblowers might not be able to draw attention to serious failures in local governance the comptroller auditor general of the national audit office should be named in the bill alongside the appointed auditor as another prescribed person who may be contacted by any whistleblower it should also have a duty to publish detailed mandatory guidance to accompany the code and to report annually to parliament on the code s effectiveness lastly there is great concern that the draft bill makes no provision for comprehensive like for like value for money comparisons which would enable informed judgements about the way local bodies spend taxpayer s money it is essential that the bill is re drafted to include a systematic process for benchmarking and like for like comparisons between public bodies in the new regime
