the recent austerity measures currently adopted in numerous european countries assume that a rise in public debt should automatically result in cuts to social programmes and the privatisation of inefficiently managed resources this type of reasoning is being used to justify the destruction of social rights of citizens for the profit of the private sector resulting in more limited access to the most fundamental resources such as water nature housing culture knowledge and information mainly for the most vulnerable members of society such a view informed solely by short term growth and profit cycles is endangering access to those resources not only for current generations but for future ones as well this book is an attempt to go beyond liberal approaches to intergenerational and distributive justice it emphasises the role of commons and communities of the commons driven by the desire to defend and perpetuate those fundamental resources under the threat of expropriation by the state and the market this book also offers policy makers and citizens who wish to accept their political responsibility by being active and refusing corporate ideology some

best practices as well as methods and solutions for renewing the configurations of societal relationships through commons thereby integrating the interests of future generations in the european community's decision making processes and institutions this is a contribution by the council of europe and the international university college of turin to the protection of the dignity of every person especially of those who even though unable to enjoy existing social rights have the right to benefit from choices and policies that ensure that human life remains unspoiled recommendation cm rec 2016 6 is the outcome of a re examination of recommendation rec 2006 4 on research on biological materials of human origin undertaken by the council of europe in 2012 it takes into account new developments in the field such as the increasingly diverse origin of biological materials stored in collections the difficulty to guarantee the nonidentifiability of such samples the increasing amount of research involving materials from different collections and the importance of protecting the rights of persons not able to consent it is widely acknowledged that the acquisition of knowledge from research on biological materials utilising systematic methodologies in the field of biomedicine can benefit human health however this kind of research also raises human rights concerns in particular with regard to the right to respect for private life the purpose of this recommendation adopted by the committee of ministers of the council of europe on 11 may 2016 is to set out and safeguard the fundamental rights of individuals whose biological materials are intended for biomedical research their dignity integrity and privacy must be guaranteed while the continued benefits of research should be ensured by providing researchers with appropriate access to biological materials the ninth edition of the book entitled procedure and practice of the assembly was published in 1990 since then significant political changes in europe have also had an impact on the functioning of the parliamentary assembly this new edition emphasises the practical way in which the assembly operates and describes its political and institutional context it will be of use both to the members of the assembly and a wider audience members and staff of national parliaments representatives of civil society and all those who wish to know more about the driving force of the council of europe the 636 parliamentarians making up the assembly come from the national parliaments of the 47 council of europe member states they meet four times a year to discuss current affairs and ask european governments to take initiatives and report back these parliamentarians speak on behalf of the 800 million europeans who elected them they are the democratic conscience of europe the protection of national minorities is a core issue for the council of europe and one of the major achievements in this field is the framework convention for the protection of national minorities the entry into force of the framework convention on 1 february 1998 was indeed an event of universal stature for it is the first ever legally binding multilateral instrument devoted to the protection of national minorities in general its importance is widely acknowledged and the number of ratifications has grown rapidly the aim of this collection is to provide all those interested in the protection of national minorities with a user friendly compilation of the basic texts concerning the framework convention in addition to the framework convention and its explanatory memorandum the collection contains texts pertaining to the monitoring mechanism in general and the advisory committee in particular it further provides the state of signatures and ratifications as well as declarations and reservations the disclosures by edward snowden since june 2013 revealing mass surveillance and large scale intrusion practices have provided compelling evidence of the existence of far reaching technologically advanced surveillance systems put in place by united states intelligence services and their partners in certain council of europe member states these systems are aimed at collecting storing and analysing communication data including content location and other metadata on a massive scale in several countries a massive surveillance industrial complex has evolved which risks escaping democratic control and accountability and threatens the free and open character of our societies the surveillance practices disclosed endanger fundamental human rights including the rights to privacy freedom of information and expression and the rights to a fair trial and freedom of religion given the threat such surveillance techniques pose how can states uphold these fundamental rights and ensure the protection of privacy and internet safety in the digital age this book presents in its first part the report of the parliamentary assembly of the council of europe and in its second part the legal expertise of the european commission for democracy through law the venice commission this convention aims to prevent trafficking in human beings protect victims of trafficking and prosecute traffickers its comprehensive scope of application encompasses all forms of trafficking whether national or transnational linked or not to organised crime and covers all victims of trafficking women men and children as well as all forms of exploitation with an emphasis on the human rights of victims of trafficking the convention contains measures to ensure the proper identification of victims their assistance and protection as well as their compensation it also contains measures to ensure the effective investigation and prosecution of traffickers in addition it sets out measures to promote international co operation and partnerships with civil society finally it provides for a mechanism to monitor compliance with the obligations it contains although teaching and management of diversity are taken into account in almost all the countries participating in the survey the enhanced value of diversity which implies the creation of conditions for inclusive participation favourable to equal opportunities for all is not unanimously approved this report underlines that teacher education institutions play an important role in collaboration with policy makers in drafting study programmes but also in defining national policies concerning teacher education such is not always the case for the relevant qualification requirements for teachers the evaluation of associated skills or the recognition of experience gained in the field of sociocultural diversity this report is the result of a survey on the initial training of teachers in sociocultural diversity in europe carried out in 16 countries within the framework of the project policies and practices for teaching sociocultural diversity launched by the steering committee for education of the council of europe in 2006 an analysis of replies from practitioners completes the results of the survey the recommendations contained in this report will serve as a basis for carrying out the second phase of the project on the definition of a framework of teachers competences relating to the enhanced value of diversity
