this book analyses the careers governance and management practices of some of the institutional sports leaders who have had the greatest impact on global sport in the 120 years since baron pierre de coubertin revived the olympic games through their positions in major sports organisations their influence the examples they set their successes and failures and their ability to bring about change these notable individuals controlled and continue to control the development of olympic and international sport the portraits included within this collection provide a critical analysis of these leaders careers by examining sports management from a biographical perspective and allowing readers to understand the challenges and obstacles faced by international sport s top administrators the contributors explore the interactions between these leaders career paths and their strategies both within their organisations and in the overall sporting context global sport leaders will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including sports management sociology politics history and international relations this book explores the military strategies of the five system determining great powers during the twenty first century the book s point of departure is that analyses of countries defence strategies should acknowledge that states come in various shapes and sizes and that their strategic choices are affected by their perceptions of their position in the international system and by power asymmetries between more and less resourceful states this creates a diversity in strategies that is often overlooked in theoretically oriented analyses the book examines how five major powers the united states china the united kingdom france and russia have adjusted their strategies to improve or maintain their relative position and to manage power asymmetries during the twenty first century it also develops and applies an analytical framework for exploring and categorising the strategies pursued by the five major powers which combines elements of structural realism with research on power transition theory and status competition the concluding chapter addresses questions related to stability and change in the present international system this book will be of interest to students of strategic studies foreign policy and international relations this book presents a systematic comparison of the military strategies pursued by five great powers eight major middle powers and eight middle powers during the early twenty first century in addition to mapping the strategic priorities of these states the study develops and applies a theoretical framework to explain differences and similarities in their strategic priorities moreover the work evaluates how the stability of the present international system and the us led liberal international order lio is affected by the strategies pursued by the us and other leading states the book aims to contribute to previous research in three ways first it intervenes in the debate on the stability of the unipolar system and the us led international order by offering a theoretical framework and an empirical approach for exploring and explaining the strategic priorities and defence strategies of different categories of states second it aims to fill a void in research on strategy the lack of a comparative and systematic approach to contemporary strategy that facilitates and guides systematic comparisons and analyses of the alignment and military strategies pursued by both major powers and less powerful states third it provides an empirical contribution to the debate on the stability of the unipolar system and the us led international order by presenting a documentation of the strategic priorities of 21 states based on primary sources consisting of official documents such as national security and defence strategies and defence bills in the conclusion the authors summarise the empirical findings on the system level the regional level and the unit level and present their overarching conclusions for the whole project this book will be of much interest to students of military and strategic studies defence studies foreign policy and international relations in general
