new essays providing critical views of coetzee's major works for the scholar and the general reader j m coetzee is perhaps the most critically acclaimed bestselling author of imaginative fiction writing in english today he received the nobel prize for literature in 2003 and is the first writer to have been awarded two bookerprizes the present volume makes critical views of this important writer accessible to the general reader as well as the scholar discussing coetzee's main works in chronological order and introducing the dominant themes in the academic discussion of his oeuvre the volume highlights coetzee's exceptionally nuanced approach to writing as both an exacting craft and a challenging moral ethical undertaking it discusses coetzee's complex relation to apartheid and post apartheid south africa the land of his birth and evaluates his complicated responses to the literary canon coetzee emerges as both a modernist and a highly self aware postmodernist a champion of the truths of aliterary enterprise conducted unrelentingly in the mode of self confession contributors chris ackerley derek attridge carol clarkson simone drichel johan geertsema david james michelle kelly sue kossew mikemaraïs james meffan tim mehigan chris prentice engelhard weigl kim l worthington tim mehigan is professor of languages in the department of languages and cultures at the university of otago new zealand and honorary professor in the department of languages and comparative cultural studies at the university of queensland australia

j m coetzee has new things to say about this relation between the real and fictions of the real and while much has already been written about him these questions need to be more fully explored the contributions to this volume are drawn together by the idea of the hinge between the world whether understood in ontological bio ethical personal and interpersonal or socio political terms and fictional representations of it whether understood in epistemological ficto biographical formal or stylistic terms in this collection the question of understanding itself how we understand or imagine our place in the world is shown to be central to our conception of that world that is rather than beginning with forms developed in socio political understandings coetzee's works ask us to consider what role fiction might play in relation to politics in relation to history in relation to ethics and our understanding of human agency and responsibility coetzee has a profound interest in the methods through which we make sense of the contemporary world and our place in it and his approach appeals to readers of fiction critics and philosophers alike the central problems he deals with in his fiction are of the kind that confront people everywhere and so involve a translatability that allow the works to maintain relevance across cultures added to this though his fiction makes us question the nature of understanding itself this book was originally published as a special issue of textual practice a bbc radio 4 good read a great novel by one of the finest authors writing in the english language today the times after years teaching romantic poetry at the technical university of cape town david lurie middle aged and twice divorced has an impulsive affair with a student the affair sours he is denounced and summoned before a committee of inquiry willing to admit his guilt but refusing to yield to pressure to repent publicly he resigns and retreats to his daughter lucy s isolated smallholding for a time his daughter s influence and the natural rhythms of the farm promise to harmonise his discordant life but the balance of power in the country is shifting he and lucy become victims of a savage and disturbing attack which brings into relief all the faultlines in their relationship a bbc between the covers big jubilee read pick one of the bbc s 100 novels that shaped our world ever since it was first published in 1999 nobel laureate j m coetzee s novel disgrace has provoked controversy set in post apartheid south africa it follows prof david lurie as he encounters disgrace through his sexual exploitation of a student and then through the shocking gang rape of his only daughter the novel s uncompromising portrayal of the new south africa outraged many who found the book regressive even racist it also challenged readers worldwide to confront its hard questions this first book of essays devoted to the novel ambitiously brings together criticism and pedagogy the ten critical essays and eight essays on teaching disgrace grapple with the ethical issues the novel so provocatively raises rape gender race animal rights disgrace is widely taught in colleges and universities and read in book clubs the debates it has given rise to will take on fresh life with the release of the upcoming film starring john malkovich unusually the eighteen contributors to the collection are all faculty members or graduates of the same institution the johnston center for integrative studies at the university of redlands and have worked together closely in crafting their essays over the past two years the volume will be exceptionally useful to teachers of literature
