the acclaimed travel writer's youthful journey as an 18 year old across 1930s Europe by foot began in a time of gifts which covered the author's exacting journey from the lowlands as far as Hungary picking up from the very spot on a bridge across the Danube where his readers last saw him we travel on with him across the great Hungarian plain on horseback and over the Romanian border to Transylvania the trip was an exploration of a continent which was already showing signs of the Holocaust which was to come although frequently praised for his lyrical writing Fermor's account also provides a coherent understanding of the dramatic events then unfolding in middle Europe but the delight remains in travelling with him in his picaresque journey past remote castles mountain villages monasteries and towering ranges

our understanding of the ecological history of European forests has been transformed in the last twenty years bringing together key findings from across the continent this book provides a comprehensive account of the relevance of historical studies to current conservation and management of forests it combines theory with a series of regional case studies to show how different aspects of forestry play out according to the landscape and historical context of the local area the battles of Belleau Wood and Soissons in June and July of 1918 marked a turning point in World War I and in the stature of the US Marine Corps whose fighting proved so critical in repelling the Germans that the French would later rename Belleau Bois de la Brigade de Marine in this book J. Michael Miller a historian of the Marine Corps and veteran chronicler of battle takes us to the battlefields of Belleau Wood and Soissons immersing us in the experience of a single brigade of marines at the forefront of the fighting through a close up look at the doughboys singular impact on allied victory in 1918 his work illuminates america s bloody sacrifice during world war i the 4th marine brigade at belleau wood and soissons for the first time treats these two battles as one campaign and demonstrates why it is impossible to fully understand one without the other miller outlines the company and platoon levels of combat throughout the campaign establishing a basic tactical understanding of the fighting he also draws on letters diaries memoirs and interviews to create a vivid and personal reconstruction of the battles his use of french and german sources also a first adds unprecedented insights to this boots on the ground account the book includes detailed mapping of both battlefields with a thirty six stop guide linking the text with the actual terrain for each of these stops miller gives gps coordinates to provide a virtual tour of the sites he discusses with its strategic overview and ground level perspective miller s work suggests a new interpretation and offers a new experience of an iconic moment in american military history and in the story of the marine corps a unique and ground breaking book from two leading specialists on adhesion and adhesives for wood and lignocellulosic materials the book is a comprehensive treatment covering a wide range of subjects uniquely available in a single source for the first time a material science approach has been adopted in dealing with wood adhesion and adhesives the approach of the authors is to bring out hierarchical cellular and porous characteristics of wood with polymeric cell wall structure along with the associated non cell wall extractives which greatly influence the interaction of wood substrate with polymeric adhesives in a very unique manner not existent in the case of other adherends environmental aspects in particular formaldehyde emission from adhesive bonded wood products has been included a significant feature of the book is the inclusion of polymeric matrix materials for wood polymer composites
