this anthology collects developing scholarship that outlines a new decentred history of global modernism in architecture using postcolonial and other related theoretical frameworks by both revisiting the canons of modernism and seeking to decolonize and globalize those canons the volume explores what a genuinely global history of architectural modernism might begin to look like its chapters explore the historiography and weaknesses of modernism's normative interpretations and propose alternatives to them the collection offers essays that interrogate transnationalism in new ways reconsiders the agency of the subaltern and the roles played by infrastructures materials and global institutions in propagating a diversity of modernisms internationally issues such as colonial modernism architectural pedagogy cultural imperialism and spirituality are engaged with essays from both established scholars and up and coming researchers this is an important reference for a new understanding of this crucial and developing topic this collection looks critically at how deleuze challenges architecture as a discipline how architecture contributes to philosophy and how we can come to understand the complex politics of space of our increasingly networked world an inventive examination of a crucial but neglected aspect of architecture by an architect writing to architects maintenance plays a crucial role in the production and endurance of architecture yet architects for the most part treat maintenance with indifference the discipline of architecture values the image of the new over the lived in the photogenic empty and stark building over a messy and labored one but the fact is homes need to be cleaned and buildings and cities need to be maintained and architecture no matter its form cannot escape from such realities in maintenance architecture hily sample offers an inventive examination of the architectural significance of maintenance through a series of short texts and images about specific buildings materials and projects although architects have seldom choose to represent maintenance imagining their work only from conception to realization artists have long explored subjects of endurance and permanence in iconic architecture sample explores a range of art projects by artists including gordon matta clark jeff wall and mierle laderman ukeles to recast the problem of maintenance for architecture how might architectural design and discourse change as a building cycle expands to include post occupancy sample looks particularly at the private home exhibition pavilion and high rise urban building giving special attention to buildings constructed with novel and developing materials technologies and precise detailing in relation to endurance these include buckminster fuller s dymaxion house 1929 the lever house 1952 the u s steel building 1971 and the o 14 2010 she considers the iconography of skyscrapers maintenance workforces both public and private labor saving technology and devices and contemporary architectural projects and preservation techniques that encompass the afterlife of buildings a selection of artworks make the usually invisible aspects of maintenance visible from martha rosler s cleaning the drapes to inigo manglano ovalle s the kiss this text traces the hidden history of architectural phenomenology a movement that reflected a key turning point in the early phases of postmodernism and a legitimating source for those architects who first dared to confront history as an intellectual problem and not merely as a stylistic question old things historic things smelly dirty things all the things that were considered the very opposite of contemporary have suddenly irrupted forcefully into architecture and art blurring their boundaries this book takes stock of the emerging generation behind this turn and examines their experimental engagements with the preservation of culturally charged objects structured around a series of interdisciplinary dialogues among practitioners and thinkers and illustrated with recent projects the book provides a window into the unfolding intellectual frameworks aesthetic modes cultural ambitions and political commitments that are the basis of experimental preservation
