christianity among the african people whether on the soil of africa or in diaspora is perceived and defined differently by different people for instance among african traditional religious people and muslims christianity is a foreign religion that must not be allowed to thrive in africa to several africans who profess jesus christianity is good but it is not adequate and effective enough to handle all human needs still among some western christians and missionaries african christianity is superficial and lacks total commitment to christ of course the africans are a cultural people with profound religious inclinations their traditional religion atr has tremendously shaped their worldviews and socioeconomic and political activities consequently when traditional africans are converted to christianity they do not break ties with their traditional religions completely the examination of relevant biblical texts on syncretism however reveals that god condemns the worship of many gods and places a curse on anyone who offers sacrifices to carved images and bows to them in worship therefore this work investigates the root cause of religious syncretism among african people in the attempt to find answers to why the average african christian finds it difficult if not impossible to abandon his her traditional religious belief systems completely to embrace christianity the author concludes that unless the issues surrounding the african forgotten and secret covenants are exposed and decisively addressed in the light of biblical teaching syncretism will continue to be a stigma on the fabric of african christianity therefore to overcome the threats of syncretism in african christianity there is a need to establish a sound theological and missiological framework that can address the problems associated with the african worldviews and belief systems this task must be carried out under the searchlight of scriptures in recent years there has been rise in popularity and visibility of the debate about the last things preterists and futurists have published books articles and even movies promoting their respective views this debate has elevated the interest of the christian public in eschatological issues along with the increased interest in eschatology there has been a rise in popularity of the preterist view which holds that most or all of the prophecies about christ s coming have already been fulfilled that the second coming took place in 70 ad most of the discussion from those who espouse the preterist view however revolves around certain passages in the new testament and their treatment of old testament passages is sporadic and selective the importance of the book of daniel in these discussions cannot be overstated however most commentaries on daniel from a futurist perspective have not dealt with the preterists interpretations of the key prophetic passages there simply is no detailed commentary on the book of daniel that addresses the preterist interpretations of this important book this book is a commentary on the entire book of daniel from a futurist perspective that specifically addresses the preterist interpretations of the key prophetic passages this is not a book that selects passages out of the context of the book and attempts to explain their prophetic significance rather this is a commentary on the entire book of daniel that places these critical prophetic passages in their literary and historical context and then deals with the various interpretations of these passages as they fit into the context of the book as a whole through its strength in numbers and remarkable presence in politics pentecostalism has become a force to reckon with in twenty first century zambian society yet some fundamental questions in the study of zambian pentecostalism and politics remain largely unaddressed by african scholars situated within an interdisciplinary perspective this unique volume explores the challenge of continuity in the zambian pentecostal understanding and practice of spiritual power in relation to political engagement chammah j kaunda argues that the challenge of pentecostal political imagination is found in the inculturation of spiritual power with political praxis the result of this inculturation is that zambian pentecostals sacralize the political authority of state power through the charisma of the national president and other major political personalities it has also contributed to the construction of zambian pentecostal leadership that is deified rather than leadership that is formed through the struggles and experiences of the marginalized and powerless kaunda argues that the solution does not lie either in desacralization of powers or the separation between the church and the state but rather in rethinking the christ event as a paradigm for the recovery of pentecostalism s sociopolitical prophetic dynamism
