an excerpt from stories of the midnight sun tom moved to take the lead and father michael followed nearly at his side they cautiously moved down the slope under the shadow of bare trees whose branches rose above them like the hands of desperate petitioners imploring the moon the footprints were closer together and it appeared to tom as if the left leg of the woman had been somehow injured for it drug in the snow he was surprised not to find a trail of blood no blood no blood it seemed so odd to him the whole night seemed steeped in a dream a nonsensical play that had no rhyme or reason what had happened to the woman why had she not simply rung the doorbell why had she turned away from the barn why run into the night away from warmth and safety why didn't she answer their calls and why for all that was holy did she turn down this darkened path out of the meager light of the moon toward the cold depths where the old maid ran like an artery through the heart of the ancient prairie it made tom angry it made him scared he began swearing at regular intervals under his breath a feel good story about how sometimes the best thing to do is just have faith that everything will work out in the end it's the story we all need right now popsugar a cow looks out to sea dreaming of a life that involves grass jan is also looking out to sea he's in goa dreaming of the passport thief who stole his heart and his passport forty six years ago back then fate kept bringing them together but lately it seems to have given up jan has not in his long search he has accidentally held a whole town at imaginary gunpoint in soviet russia stalked the proprietors of an international illegal lamp trafficking scam and done his very best to avoid any kind of work involving the packing of fish now he thinks if he just waits if he just does nothing at all maybe fate will find it easier to reunite them his story spans fifty four years ten countries two imperfect criminals and one rather perfect one twenty two different animals and an annoying teenager who just will not leave but maybe an annoying teenager is exactly what jan needs to help him find the missing thief featuring a menagerie of creatures each with its own story to tell we are animals is a quirky heart warming tale of lost love unlikely friendships and the certainty of fate or lack thereof for the first time in her life the cow noticed the sun setting and it was glorious the long side of the midnight sun is a poetic drama which tells the story of craig who travels with his wife and son from osaka to maryland for a christmas reunion with his extended family a brilliant example of formal verse the book is always witty and frequently hilarious but is also able to swerve suddenly into a moving seriousness making place making self explores new understandings of place and place making in late modernity covering key themes of place and space tourism and mobility sexual difference and subjectivity using a series of individual life stories it develops a fascinating polyvocal account of leisure and life journeys these stories focus on journeys made to the north cape in norway the most northern point of mainland europe which is both a tourist destination and an evocation of a reliable and secure point of reference an idea that gives meaning to an individual s life the theoretical core of the book draws on an inter weaving of post lacanian versions of feminist psycho analytical thinking with phenomenological and existential thinking where place making is linked with self making and homecoming by combining such ground breaking theory with her innovative use of case studies inger birkeland here provides a major contribution to the fields of cultural geography tourism and feminist studies
