american colonial artists john copley and benjamin west were both born into humble circumstances in 1738 as young boys they both wanted to be artists as teenagers they embarked on their artistic careers they met each other for the first time in london in 1774 clashing as they sought the same goals wealth and artistic fame in a portrait of rivalry author douglas g waters examines the histories of these two eighteenth century american painters and their competition to achieve artistic dominance in london their struggle began against the backdrop of americas fight to gain independence from the realm of king george iii coincidentally born the same year as the two artists filled with colorful characters including a wax lady and spy a noble what does it look like when someone feels called to do something that doesn't make sense it depends on who you ask to the one doing it it seems like the only choice to those looking on from the outside it may look admirable a little on the crazy side or bordering on insanity this is the true story of one couple who knew that calling as they became unwittingly involved in the life of a stranger a sweet old man named george who landed on their porch in the midst of a heart attack despite any real plan linda and bobby answered a gentle nudge from god as they surrendered god perfectly orchestrated everything allowing them all to receive a lifetime of living and loving in just eight months when it was all over they were unable to imagine anything more beautiful than the lifelong blessings they received and then one last unexpected blessing came to light which god used to open the eyes of those looking on from the outside
