each book in this series is designed to make available to students important new work on key historical problems and periods that they encounter each volume devoted to a central topic or theme contains specially commissioned essays from scholars in the relevant field these provide an assessment of a particular aspect pointing out areas of development and controversy and indicating where conclusions can be drawn or where further work is necessary while an editorial introduction reviews the problem or period as a whole in this text the contributors assess reform and reformers in late 18th century europe covering such topics as catherine the great the danish reformers the habsburg monarchy and events in spain and italy brief historical survey of governmental economic and cultural reforms initiated by so called enlightened monarchs of europe in the second half of the eighteenth century a discussion of reform and reformers in 18th century europe covering such topics as the danish reformers catherine the great italy and spain and the habsburg monarchy each essay assesses areas of development and controversy indicates conclusions and areas where further work is necessary efforts to ascertain the influence of enlightenment thought on state action especially government reform in the long eighteenth century have long provoked stimulating scholarly quarrels generations of historians have grappled with the elusive intersections of enlightenment and absolutism of political ideas and government policy in order to complement expand and rejuvenate the debate which has so far concentrated largely on northern central and eastern europe this volume brings together historians of southern europe broadly defined and its ultramarine empires each chapter has been explicitly commissioned to engage with a common set of historiographical issues in order to reappraise specific aspects of enlightened absolutism and enlightened reform as paradigms for the study of southern europe and its atlantic empires in so doing it engages creatively with pressing issues in the current historical literature and suggests new directions for future research no single historian working alone could write a history that did justice to the complex issues involved in studying the connection between enlightenment ideas and policy making in spanish america brazil france italy portugal and spain for this reason this well conceived balanced volume drawing on the expertise of a small carefully chosen cohort offers an exciting investigation of this historical debate conventionally absolutism in early modern europe has suggested unfettered autocracy and despotism the erosion of rights the centralisation of decision making the loss of liberty everything in a word that was un british but characteristic of ancien regime france recently historians have questioned such comfortably simplistic views this lively investigation of absolutism in action continent wide but centred on a detailed comparison of france and england dissolves the traditional picture to reveal a much more complex reality and in so doing illuminates the varied ways in which early modern europe was governed the 18th century was a unique period of global and fundamental change britain conquered india and much of america the american revolution produced the usa and russia expanded vastly in the field of ideas the scientific revolution was consolidated and followed by the enlightenment nationalism flourished populations surged and the commercial and industrial revolutions with western technology eclipsed the east few centuries have inspired such a galaxy of historians and their groundbreaking work has been drawn upon by derek beales in his collection of articles and special lectures he covers the whole european kaleidoscope but focuses especially on joseph ii and the hapburg monarchy asserting that enlightened despotism was the emodiment of the century s revolution in ideas politics government and administration
