winner 2025 theodore j lowi first book award international political science association american political science association smuggling is typically thought of as furtive and hidden taking place under the radar and beyond the reach of the state but in many cases governments tacitly permit illicit cross border commerce or even devise informal arrangements to regulate it drawing on extensive fieldwork in the borderlands of tunisia and morocco max gallien explains why states have long tolerated illegal trade across their borders and develops new ways to understand the political economy of smuggling this book examines the rules and agreements that govern smuggling in north africa tracing the involvement of states in these practices and their consequences for borderland communities gallien demonstrates that contrary to common assumptions about the effects of informal economies smuggling can promote both state and social stability states not only turn a blind eye to smuggling they rely on it to secure political acquiescence and maintain order because it provides income for otherwise neglected border communities more recently however the securitization of borders wars political change and the pandemic have put these arrangements under pressure gallien explores the renegotiation of the role of smuggling showing how stability turns into vulnerability and why some groups have been able to thrive while others have been pushed further to the margins with both rich empirical detail and novel theoretical contributions smugglers and states offers important insights into security and stability in north africa and the prospects for economic inclusion in a context where many livelihoods exist outside of the law this book discusses in detail how orthodox christianity was involved in and influenced political transition in ukraine serbia and georgia after the collapse of communism based on original research including extensive interviews with clergy and parishioners as well as historical legal and policy analysis the book argues that the nature of the involvement of churches in post communist politics depended on whether the interests of the church for example in education the legal system or economic activity were accommodated or threatened if accommodated churches confined themselves to the sacred domain if threatened they engaged in daily politics if churches competed with each other for organizational interests they evoked the support of nationalism while remaining within the religious domain the open access version of this book available at taylorfrancis com has been made available under a creative commons attribution non commercial no derivatives 4 0 license
