two forgotten weeks in 1836 and one of the most consequential events of the entire Texas revolution have been missing from the historical record the tale of the Mexican army's misfortunes in the aptly named sea of mud where more than 2,500 Mexican soldiers and 1,500 female camp followers foundered in the muddy fields of what is now Wharton County, Texas. In 1996 a pediatrician and avocational archaeologist living in Wharton, Texas, decided to try to find evidence in Wharton County of the Mexican army of 1836. Following some preliminary research at the Wharton County Junior College library he focused his search on the area between the San Bernard and West Bernard rivers. Within two weeks after beginning the search for artifacts a Mexican army site was discovered and with the help of the Houston Archaeological Society excavated.

winner Presidio La Bahía Award 2004 San Antonio Conservation Society Citation 2005. The family of León was one of the foundation stones on which Texas was built. Martín de León and his wife Patricia de la Garza left a comfortable life in Mexico for the hardships and uncertainties of the Texas frontier. In 1801 together they established family ranches in South Texas and in 1824 the town of Victoria and the de León colony on the Guadalupe River along with Stephen F. Austin's colony, the only completely successful colonization effort in Texas. They and their descendants survived and prospered under four governments as the society in which they lived evolved from autocratic to republican and the economy from which they drew their livelihood changed from one of mercantile control to one characterized by capitalistic investments. Combining the storytelling flair of a novelist with a scholar's concern for the facts, Ana Carolina Castillo Crimm here recounts the history of three generations of the de León family. She follows Martín and Patricia from their beginnings in Mexico through the establishment of the family ranches in Texas and the founding of the de León colony and the town of Victoria. Then she details how, after Martín's death in 1834, Patricia and her children endured the Texas Revolution, exile in New Orleans, and Mexican expropriation of their lands, and after returning to Texas, years of legal battles to regain their property.
