in his compelling new book chris rojek turns this shibboleth on its head to demonstrate how leisure has become a form of labor ranging widely from an analysis of the inflated aspirations of the leisure society thesis to the culture of deception that permeates leisure choice the author shows how leisure is inextricably linked to emotional labor and intelligence it is now a school for life in challenging the orthodox understandings of freedom and free time the labour of leisure sets out an indispensable new approach to the meaning of leisure this book updates and expands jackson and burtons mapping the past charting the future 1989 and leisure studies prospects for the twenty first century 1999 the need to do so was driven by the significant new developments in the leisure studies field as well as the arrival of new and upcoming experts in specific areas of study the book features new sections on disciplinary perspectives including chapters on anthropology history philosophy psychology sociology biology and economics of leisure cognate area perspectives including chapters on leisure health and physical activity leisure and religion spirituality sport as leisure and tourism international perspectives including chapters on leisure in africa australia and new zealand east asia europe latin america diverse perspectives including chapters on leisure in terms of youth family older adults immigrants racial and ethnic groups the lgbq community and people with disabilities other book chapters focus on leisure theory leisure time and technology leisure needs motivations and constraints leisure place and social capital leisure planning marketing and management leisure research methods and the future of the leisure studies field approximately 80 of each chapter summarises the current state of that specific leisure concept topic or area while the remaining 20 dares to speculate imaginatively about where it could and should proceed in the future both summary and speculation are limited to approximately 6 000 words as chapter authors were instructed to heed french philosopher blaise pascals 1656 oft cited apology that i have only made this letter longer because i have not had the time to make it shorter while the book maintains the spirit and rigour of jackson and burtons earlier books it also reflects the growth and maturity that has subsequently occurred in the leisure studies field
