radicalisation extremism and social work practice is the first book to explore cultural identity acculturation and perceived discrimination of muslim youth across western countries in relation to social work as well as the radicalisation and extremist views and actions of a small number of muslim youth it draws on relevant theoretical frameworks and research to examine the different approaches taken in social work practice some countries consider multi agency approaches particularly how public health practice can inform interventions and strategies others take a public health approach looking for risk factors and seeking protective factors to develop suitable interventions within the communities through public engagement and partnership as well as examining and discussing the above approaches this book critically examines government and community based approaches to radicalisation and extremism and strategies for combating these this volume will be a valuable resource for social work students including other disciplines such as psychology public health psychiatry sociology political science and community development it will also be of interest to policy makers practitioners and researchers the ongoing conflict in western sahara is one of the more intractable legacies of european colonization in north africa following the withdrawal of spain this territorial dispute escalated in 1975 into a war of independence between the sahraoui people of the polisario front who were backed by algeria and the states of mauritania and morocco in 1976 the polisario front established the sahraoui arab democratic republic which was not admitted in the un but won recognition by a few states after multiple peace efforts the conflict reemerged in 2005 as the independence intifada today the polsario front controls about 20 of western sahara at the heart of the conflict lie geopolitical interests and incompatible claims aggravated by the use of military force and decades of mostly unproductive diplomatic maneuvers by international bodies and regional or foreign powers this thorough impartial survey brings together some of the best experts on the sahara question to provide a broad based analysis of the problem from a range of perspectives featuring new research the chapters examine the roots of the conflict its dynamics and potential solutions this groundbreaking text also addresses questions of law human rights natural resources from an analytical point of view contributed by scholars from north africa europe and the u s it is an essential contribution to the literature of middle east and african studies
