in this new book instead of a simple opposition to the new chinese expansionist policy one belt one road initiative professor mauricio sousa argues that the european union should start to formulate strategies to expand parts of productive processes of its industries to new markets in asia africa and latin america in partnership with business groups from these developing countries thus avoiding a new trade war eastern and western countries would benefit from the coordination of development initiatives for these new markets with many developing countries having opportunity to receive technologies and to train their workforce to new production patterns such as industrie 4 0 while expanding european north american and asiatic supply chains optimizing new port and railway infrastructures that china has been building around the world european digital shipping companies could play a key role in this process since they are increasingly being able to apply blockchain and other new technology standards in order to identify business opportunities and to plan new logistics channels becoming a strategic link between european and north american industries and new regions in developing countries to where they could expand accelerating the formation of more consumer markets integrating regional clusters into global production networks bringing together case studies ranging across the globe including the us mexico borderlands the calais encampment in france refugee camps in kenya uganda and bangladesh and contested informal enclaves and communities in the cities of india china brazil nigeria and south africa this book challenges current ways of thinking about the governance of human settling mobility and placemaking together the 15 essays question the validity of the conventional hegemonic divisions of global north vs global south and formal vs informal in terms of geographic presence transborder performances and the ideological inter dependence of northern and southern spaces spatial practices and the uniformity of authoritative enforcements the book whose authors themselves come from all over the world uses global south as a methodological apparatus to ask the southern question of settling and unsettling across the globe crucially the studies reveal the sentiments resourcefulness and the agency of those positioned by the powerful within the dichotomies of formal informal legitimate illegal privileged marginalized etc who are traditionally identified within the dominant development discourse as mere numbers or designated by intervening institutions as helpless recipients by focussing on hitherto invisible events and untold stories of adaptation negotiation and contestation by people and their communities this volume of essays takes the ongoing north south debate in new directions and opens up to the reader s fresh areas of enquiry it will be of interest to researchers and students of architecture planning politics and sociology as well as built environment professionals this paper highlights that central banks from brazil chile colombia mexico and peru the la5 countries reaped the benefits of what they sowed in successfully weathering the global crisis the adoption of far reaching institutional policy and operational reforms during the last two decades enabled central banks to build credibility about their commitment with the objective of price stability thus when the 2007 08 supply shock and the financial crisis hit the world the la5 central banks reacted swiftly and effectively based on a flexible policy framework and with the support of strong macroeconomic and financial foundations building on the experience of the la5 central banks and complementing with recommendations from the imf s technical advice the paper provides several suggestions for countries seeking to strengthen the effectiveness of monetary policy
