hidden in his own story is an invitation to reconsider and re imagine both the humanity and divinity of Jesus. It is an invitation to people who are not familiar with the Bible stories and have only heard them through other sources, also to many who have rejected traditional interpretations of the stories as religious dogma, and to many people who are so steeped in the stories that they have become cliché. Even the most clever storyteller or writer of fiction can never totally disguise or deny their personal influence on the story, and most of us have had the experience of someone beginning a story with "I know a person who when in fact that person is the one telling the story. Why not imagine the same when Jesus says, 'Once there was a man'.

It is important to bear in mind that Sussman has also been a true credit to the Reform Rabbinate. He has taught thousands of congregants over the decades, he imparted his love for the Jewish people and its past from the pulpit under the marriage canopy, and even at the funeral bier. These attainments must never be minimized or overlooked. One of Isaac Mayer Wise's students memorialized a noteworthy incident that occurred during a class that Wise was teaching. Wise suddenly began to feel ill and decided to end the class early. As Wise began to step down from his teaching platform, a well-meaning rabbinical student jumped up from his seat, grabbed his teacher's arm, and said, "May I help you down, Doctor?" The famous Rabbi shifted his glance and said in a voice loud enough for the rest of the class to hear, "Never help a person down, my boy. A Rabbi must always help people up." This is how Rabbi Dr. Sussman has led in the various communities he served over the past four decades. He has been a learned Rabbi who never lost sight of his obligation to help people up. Rabbi Dr. Gary P. Zola, Executive Director Emeritus, American Jewish Archives, Ackerman Family Distinguished Professor, HUC-JIR, wrote for the readers of the AJA Festschrift in honor of Rabbi Dr. Lance J. Sussman, 2024.

Every disciple imagines Jesus reading the Gospels. We form images of him and of his surroundings. This has been constant practice for those who desire to know him more clearly. We however borrow stuff from stained glass windows, book illustrations, and the like, which is always familiar to us but which reflects our not his culture. This book invites readers to construct different scenarios about Jesus and his world from the study of his ancient culture. We do this with accuracy because of the advance of cultural studies of his and our worlds. Jesus should look different, wear different clothing, experience different grooming in settings foreign to us in houses and boats from his own world. Jesus should speak differently so that the meaning of his words can only be known in his culture. In this book, readers travel through the Gospels with specific suggestions about what to see namely jesus in his cultural world imagining jesus also suggests how to listen to him in his cultural language did jesus laugh how did he pray this is what the incarnation means imagining jesus socialized in a particular culture at a time foreign to us and in a language strange to us
