the text of this norton critical edition is based on eleanor marx aveling's celebrated translation revised by paul de man although many writers blend autobiography and fiction few have been so forthright in admitting it as gustave flaubert in reference to his legendary novel and protagonist he wrote madame bovary c'est moi madame bovary has become an icon for casual readers and feminists alike but as dacia maraini argues she is one of the most problematic though fascinating female protagonists in modern literature in this lively learned and very personal study maraini explores the profound and contradictory relationship between the writer flaubert and the character his readers have grown to love maraini argues that in their desire to claim emma bovary as a standard bearer of revolt women have often overlooked the bitter pitiless way in which flaubert evokes emma's insignificance and vulgarity searching for emma guides the reader through flaubert's novel and many of his letters seeking out the sources of his obsessive cruelty toward emma maraini relates flaubert's contempt for emma to his relationship with his mistress louise colet to his general terror of women and to his own self loathing it was entirely in spite of himself maraini writes that flaubert created the female don quixote so admired for her restlessness and determination searching for emma offers a novelist's insight into the complex relationship between author and character and into the deepest motivations of fiction emma bovary the bored wife of a french provincial doctor scans her solitude with desperate eyes like a shipwrecked sailor searching for a white sail on the distant horizon and when emma's ship finally comes in it carries with it vast and tragic consequences upon which her own life and the lives of those around her are wrecked described by henry james as one of the first of the classics and so regarded ever since madame bovary has touched generations of readers and moulded generations of writers the story of a little woman in a provincial town who dreams of happiness and then perishes by her own hand is worked up by flaubert into a profound and heart rending study of human bondage emma bovary is an avid reader of sentimental novels brought up on a normandy farm and convent educated she longs for the passion of romance at first emma pins her hopes on marriage but life with her well meaning husband in the provinces leaves her bored and dissatisfied she seeks escape through extravagant spending sprees and eventually adultery as emma pursues her impossible reverie she seals her own ruin and despair exquisite moving at times ferociously satirical and always psychologically acute madame bovary remains one of the greatest most beguiling novels ever written this stunning new translation by the celebrated novelist adam thorpe delicately and meticulously transposes the rhythms tone and poetry of madame bovary and brings us closer to its shifting depths it is destined to become the definitive english translation of our time
