william wall is the first international winner of the drue heinz literature prize in this collection of interconnected stories the beautiful and ravaging forces of sea and land collide with the forces of human nature through isolation and family love and loss madness and revelation the stories follow the lives of two sisters and the people who come and go in their lives much like the tides dominated by the tragic loss of a third sister at a young age their family spirals out of control we witness three stages of the sisters lives each taking place on an island in southwest ireland southern england and the bay of naples beautifully and sparsely written the stories deeply evoke landscape and character and are suffused with a keen eye for detail and metaphor a learned and comprehensive work covering a wide range of major and minor figures fiction of the irish revival remains a valuable and standard sourcebook to the scholarship on late nineteenth and early twentieth century irish literature and culture
