publication of the handbook of group decision and negotiation marks a milestone in the evolution of the group decision and negotiation gdn. On this occasion editors Colin Eden and Marc Kilgour asked me to write a brief history of the gdn to provide background and context for the volume. They said that I am in a good position to do so, actively involved in creating the gdn section and serving as its chair, founding and leading the gdn journal group decision and negotiation as editor in chief and the book series advances in group decision and negotiation as editor and serving as general chair of the gdn annual meetings. I accepted their invitation to write a brief history. In 1989, what is now the Institute for Operations Research and the Management Sciences (INFORMS) established its section on group decision and negotiation. The journal group decision and negotiation was founded in 1992, published by Springer in cooperation with INFORMS and the gdn section in 2003 as an extension of the journal. The Springer book series advances in group decision and negotiation was inaugurated.

This book starts with the basic concepts of fuzzy sets and progresses through a normative view on possibility distributions and owa operators in multiple criteria decisions, five applications that all build on experience from solving complex real world problems of possibility distributions to strategic decisions about closing or not closing a production plant using fuzzy real options portfolio selection with imprecise future data, predictive probabilities and possibilities for risk assessment in grid computing, fuzzy ontologies for process industry and design, and implementation of mobile value services are presented and carefully discussed. It can be useful for researchers and students working in soft computing, real options, fuzzy decision making, grid computing, knowledge mobilization and mobile value services.
