karl marx hypothesized that there is a long term tendency for the profit rate to fall in capitalist economies immanuel wallerstein hypothesized that capitalist development tends to drive up labor cost material cost and taxation cost this book evaluates marx s and wallerstein s hypotheses by studying the long term movement of the profit rate and contributing factors in major capitalist economies during the twentieth century leading capitalist economies largely succeeded in stabilizing the profit rate however the current decline of the profit rate in china may precipitate the global capitalist economy into a new major crisis as economic growth slows down in all major capitalist economies marx s original hypothesis may be verified by the global economic events in the twenty first century in the 30 years since the emergence of the post soviet conflicts things have both changed and remained the same continuities and changes in post soviet conflicts are the primary themes of this volume it addresses all major wars civil wars and rebellions in the former soviet union the volume focuses on factors that have contributed or may contribute to the resolution of the post soviet conflicts most of which have represented rather long and damaging crises in all conflict cases moscow has been guided by russian state interests some have been instigated or fueled others driven to a frozen state and still a couple of others have been constructively resolved due to moscow s intervention russia has used a long term strategy for the resolution of those conflicts that have taken place on its soil but in regards to the conflicts in other post soviet states there is no long term solution in sight as such the conflicts in ukraine georgia moldova and nagorniy karabakh remain unresolved involving not only the named states but russia as well they may represent localized national or regional crisis impacting only the states involved but for the russian federation they epitomize one huge post soviet crisis with no obvious end each volume contains list of societies associations etc exploring nato s post cold war determination to support democracy abroad this book addresses the alliance s adaptation to the new illiberal backlashes in eastern europe the western balkans and afghanistan after the alleged return of history the book engages the question of what has driven nato to pursue democratisation in face of the significant region specific challenges and what can explain policy expansion or retrenchment over time explaining nato s adaptation from the perspective of power dynamics that push for international change and historical experience that informs grand strategy allows wider inferences not only about democratisation as a foreign policy strategy but also about the nature of the transatlantic alliance and its relations with a mostly illiberal environment larsen offers a theoretical conception of nato as a patchwork of one hegemonic and several great power interests that converge or diverge in the formulation of common policy as opposed to nato as a community of universal values this volume will appeal to researchers of transatlantic relations nato s functional and geographical expansion hegemony and great power politics democracy promotion lessons of the past neoclassical realism alliance theory and the crisis of the liberal world order
