japanese brazilian saudades explores the self definition of nikkei discourse in portuguese language cultural production by brazilian authors of japanese ancestry ignacio lópez calvo uses books and films by twentieth century nikkei authors as case studies to redefine the ideas of brazilianess and japaneseness from both a national and a transnational perspective the result suggests an alternative model of postcoloniality particularly as it pertains to the post world war ii experience of nikkei people in brazil lópez calvo addresses the complex creation of japanese brazilian identities and the history of immigration showing how the community has used writing as a form of reconciliation and affirmation of their competing identities as japanese brazilian and japanese brazilian japanese in brazil have employed a twofold strategic rhetorical engineering the affirmation of ethno cultural difference on the one hand and the collective assertion of citizenship and belonging to the brazilian nation on the other lópez calvo also grapples with the community's inclusion and exclusion in brazilian history and literature using the concept of epistemicide to refer to the government's attempt to impose a western value system brazilian culture and portuguese language on the nikkeijin while at the same time trying to destroy japanese language and culture in brazil by prohibiting japanese language instruction in schools japanese language publications and even speaking japanese in public japanese brazilian saudades contributes to the literature criticizing the cognitive injustice that fails to acknowledge the value of the global south and non western ways of knowing and being in the world with important implications for both latin american studies and nikkei studies it expands discourses of race ethnicity nationality and communal belonging through art and narrative this edited volume examines how the multiple manifestations of social violence in brazil impacts the building of a peaceful society the chapters reflect on the role of state organized crime and civil society they provide a unique analysis of how the brazilian state deals with criminal violence but also finds challenges to comply with sustainable development goal 16 to interdict police violence and to provide an efficient gun policy the book shows the agency of civil society in a violent society in which ngos and communities engage in key peace formation action including advocacy for human rights and promoting arts the overall aim of this book is to advance the research agenda regarding the intersections between peace public security and violence under the lens of peace studies in brazil the challenges to peace differ markedly from areas in regular conflict the women peace and security wps agenda is celebrated as a landmark global framework for achieving gender equality in peace and security governance its power is visible in two decades of united nations resolutions national action plans regional initiatives and countless activist academic and philanthropic projects yet despite this vitality it is haunted by failure as a lack of political will and stubborn patriarchal resistance frustrate its promise this book offers a groundbreaking critical account of the wps agenda exploring its evolution in relation to the wider politics of global governance and feminism paul kirby and laura j shepherd argue that wps is not a settled cohesive policy but a field in flux defined and disrupted by a growing number of national supranational subnational and transnational agents who in turn act on an expanding catalogue of threats from climate change to homophobia challenging traditional boundaries of peace and security kirby and shepherd reconceptualize wps as a policy ecosystem tracing interaction and contestation around the agenda across levels from the un security council to military alliances to feminist activists they combine analysis of a vast dataset of policy documents with key informant interviews and close readings of diplomacy statecraft the politics of indigeneity counterinsurgency antimilitarism human rights and the arms trade across the first twenty years of wps far reaching and incisive governing the feminist peace poses a provocative question what if we abandoned the idea of the wps agenda as a unified political project altogether resource extraction exists in diverse settings across the world and is carried out through different practices the global life of mines provides a comprehensive framework examining the spatial and temporal relationships between mining and postmining as interrelated and coexisting features within the global minescape the book brings together scholars from various fields such as anthropology geography sociology and political science examining ethnographic case studies throughout the americas bolivia brazil peru usa africa democratic republic of congo and europe italy arctic norway and spain
