bachelor thesis from the year 2009 in the subject business economics offline marketing and online marketing grade 1 3 university of applied sciences bielefeld language english abstract in the year 2009 nintendo was placed fifth in the businessweek s ranking of the world s most innovative companies this confirms nintendo s significant rearrangement into an innovative design powerhouse that redefined the predominant business value factors of the video game industry however a few years ago no analyst would have anticipated that nintendo would develop in this direction until the mid 1990s the global home video game console industry was dominated by nintendo a japanese video game hardware and software manufacturer rivalry in this industry only marginally existed this changed when sony entered the market in 1994 by offering a console that was technologically superior sony outperformed the then nintendo console thereby new challenges arose for the japanese company nintendo lost its long lasting market leadership to the new entrant despite several trails to recapture market leadership during the end 1990s nintendo was stuck in second place instead of regaining market share the opposite was the case when microsoft a computer software giant joined the market in 2001 nintendo s market share slipped dramatically because they were not able to keep up the technological progress of its competitors the former market leader fell back to the third place of the industry analysts of the video game entertainment industry even recommended that nintendo withdraw completely from the highly competitive console market in order to concentrate on developing software 4 however nintendo refused to surrender but they were in biggest need to recover market share nintendo had a very different approach to strategy than sony or microsoft instead of competing for core gamers nintendo tried to expand the market and to win new customers for satoru iwata the president of nintendo the industry had been following a wrong path by only concentrating on core gamers because the number of overall users was getting smaller and decreased its spending patterns you must know when not to follow the traditional way of thinking iwata argued for some time we have believed the game industry is ready for disruption not just from nintendo but from all game developers it is what we all need to expand our audience it is what we all need to expand our imaginations their new strategy was called blue ocean strategy this book investigates the fundamental rethinking required by the transition to a production system whose guiding intelligence is self organizing networks utilizing an exploding literature in the science of complexity and evolutionary economics plus six detailed case studies of complex technologies that have experienced repeated innovation this study identifies distinct innovation patterns and explores what happens when changes in these patterns occur this volume also identifies the conditions that signal the approach of such changes and investigates the appropriate strategy and policy responses used to deal with them thomas griffith offers a critical assessment of george c kenney s numerous contributions to macarthur s war efforts he depicts kenney as a staunch proponent of airpower s ability to shape the outcome of military engagement and a commander who shared macarthur s strategic vision this book seeks to uncover the linkages between business leaders motivated by profit and political decision makers motivated by electoral gain by examining the responses of public officials in three michigan auto cities detroit flint and pontiac to plant location choices made by general motors and chrysler throughout the authors focus on three issues the relationship between the local industrial economy and the local political system the structure of urban politics and the degree of independence of political decision makers in urban affairs a first hand perspective of innovation in the design and construction industry the book outlines the obstacles to bringing innovation ideas into practice including the influence of government policies and private sector priorities the authors not only describe the problems at hand but they also provide possible solutions to help expedite the transfer of infrastructure related innovation into practice in order to assure an economically viable and competitive nation most of the papers in this volume focus on innovation strategies others on organization communication and education discuss preconditions of innovation which of course are also of a strategic character the work focuses more on general principles and philosophical considerations than on techniques the increase in interdisciplinary relations with other fields of research has been a determining factor in specific methods receding into the background the volume presents papers in the academic scientific and research fields as well as contributions related to practical implementation within the field of innovation management discussion results and fields of future research are summarized the work will be of interest to experts and managers in the field of management technology and innovation practice as well as scientists and students involved in the field of innovation research the public sector looms large economically both as a regulator of private economic activity and as a producer and consumer in its own right the rewards to innovation in the public sector can be huge but the obstacles can be formidable in this book policy makers and scholars from eight countries and two international organisations offer their unique insights on where the challenges lie and how they can be overcome this publication is part of an ongoing series highlighting some of the results of the unece subprogramme on economic cooperation and integration the objective of the subprogramme is to promote a policy financial and regulatory environment conducive to economic growth knowledge base development and higher competitiveness in the unece region back cover creativity and innovation are not the same thing in most organizations there are many good creative ideas that never move into the action phase and therefore do not become innovations both creativity and innovation are very relevant to strategic management it is the ability to innovate that determines much of what an organization is able to do innovative capability provides the organization with bricks from which a strategy can be formed and which can eventually evolve into a bastion of strong competitive advantage innovation therefore remains one of the challenges facing strategic management today the innovation challenge recognizes the fundamental importance of innovation to strategic management it is built on the central thesis that long term success is to a large degree dependent on the implementation of new products methods and processes the innovation challenge is the second volume in the wiley series in contemporary strategic concerns also available in the series is the implementation challenge 0 471 96589 8
