From award-winning novelist Paul Auster comes the graphic adaptation of his deeply beloved series, the New York Trilogy, a postmodern take on detective and noir fiction. In 1994, Paul Auster's City of Glass was adapted into a graphic novel and became an immediate cult classic, published in over 30 editions worldwide, excerpted in the Norton anthology of postmodern fiction. But City of Glass was only the first novel in a series of books Auster's acclaimed New York Trilogy and graphic novel readers have been waiting for years for the other two tales to be translated into comics. Now the wait is over: the New York Trilogy is postmodern literature disguised as noir fiction, where language is the prime suspect, an interpretation of detective and mystery fiction. Each book explores various philosophical themes. In City of Glass, an author of detective fiction investigates a murder and descends into madness. Ghosts features a private investigator named Blue trailing a man named Black for a client called White. This too ends with the protagonist's downfall. And in The Locked Room, another author is experiencing writer's block and hopes to break it by solving the disappearance of his childhood friend. The second two parts of this trilogy will be appearing in this volume for the very first time as a graphic novel. Paul Karasik, the mastermind behind the three adaptations, has directed all three books. City of Glass is illustrated by the award-winning cartoonist David Mazzucchelli, the second volume Ghosts is illustrated by New Yorker cover artist Lorenzo Mattotti, and The Locked Room is adapted and drawn by Karasik himself. These adaptations take Auster's sophisticated wordplay and translate it into comics, both highbrow and lowbrow, and immensely fun reading.

A Picador paperback original written and directed by Paul Auster, the screenplay for the inner life of Martin Frost starring David Thewlis, Irene Jacob, Michael Imperioli, and Sophie Auster. From the New York Trilogy to the book of illusions and 4321, Paul Auster, one of America's most spectacularly inventive novelists, established himself as an award-winning filmmaker as well. With Smoke, Blue in the Face, and Lulu on the Bridge, here the inner life of Martin Frost brings together his talents as a novelist and filmmaker with a work that is tender, moving, and funny. Searching for solitude, the writer Martin Frost borrows a friend's country house. Waking up one morning, he is shocked to find a nearly naked young woman beside him in bed. She also has a key to the house and claims to be the owner's niece. Martin's initial annoyance at Claire's intrusion is rapidly forgotten as he falls passionately in love with her. Even when it is revealed that Claire is not who she claims to be, their idyllic passion continues until she suddenly falls ill. The inner life of Martin Frost is based on an imaginary film that appears in the author's novel, The Book of Illusions. Unlike the fictional Hector Spelling's Lost (1946), Black and White, film of the same title, Auster's luminous celebration of the mysteries of love, art, and the imagination was released in 2007.

the celebrated author of the new york trilogy the book of illusions and invisible presents here a highly personal collection of essays prefaces and occasional pieces written for magazines and newspapers ranging in subject from walter raleigh to kafka hawthorne to the high wire artist philippe petit conceptual artist sophie calle to auster s own olympia typewriter the 9 11 attack on the twin towers to his beloved new york city itself auster displays all his customary flair wit and insight including several of his major works important books in their own right such as hand to mouth and the invention of solitude this collection demonstrates and reaffirms the pre eminent position paul auster holds in contemporary literature and criticism
