lenin s texts breaking with eurocentrism in the socialist movement fired up by the outbreak of the first world war and outraged by the capitulation of most socialist parties to the demands of national bourgeoisies lenin sought to understand the deeper roots of the crisis of the world movement the result was imperialism the highest stage of capitalism which went on to become a core text for the international communist movement but lenin also sought to break with the eurocentrism of the socialist movement which tended to look down with disdain at or simply reject struggles for self determination especially among colonized peoples this volume with an introduction by the renowned abolitionist and anti imperialist theorist ruth wilson gilmore brings together the texts on imperialism and those on the national question to provide a window into lenin s global vision of revolution examining how writings on national issues by marx engels could form the basis of an international dialectic this text shows that by doing justice to national identities linking new forms of social movement new internationalism can be created
