our christian faith cant be left for sunday use only yet the pressure in many working environments does not permit thoughts of much other than the immediate tasks being faced so i welcome this devotional which focuses on the christian in the workplace a good starting point would be to read each weeks devotional on monday at breakfast on the journey to work or during morning coffee time and so set ones thoughts on an aspect of christian living and work for the week ahead it isnt always wise or possible to try to discuss ones faith with colleagues while at work but i still recall the witness of a christian who worked in the same factory as me many years ago his work brought him into contact with people of all levels and responsibilities everyone spoke well of him his clear christian witness was in the way he did his job as you read this devotional each week i pray that you may let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your father in heaven matthew 5 16 njkv john wedlake retired board member christian in communication england united kingdom peace don t we all want just a little more peace in our lives peace in relationships peace at home and at work peace from painful memories release from pressures and demands that threaten to crush us is there a way to find peace in all these areas what if we could build a moment of peace into every day of the year opening our hearts to the peace god has promised wouldn t it be great to live with less fear and anxiety and with more confidence and joy the one year devotions for women becoming a woman at peace is a chance to spend time with god every day to breathe deeply and grab onto the kind of peace that only god can offer a peace far richer and more satisfying than anything we can hope or imagine each of these uplifting devotions includes a key nlt scripture verse a devotional reading and a suggested prayer for connecting with god
