the digital age has brought about a world wide evolution of phototherapy and therapeutic photography this book provides both a foundation in phototherapy and therapeutic photography and describes the most recent developments phototherapy and therapeutic photography in a digital age is divided into three sections in the first an introduction and overviews from different perspectives in the second approaches and contexts including phototherapy re enactment phototherapy community phototherapy self portraiture family photography this is followed by a conclusion looking at the future of phototherapy and therapeutic photography in terms of theory practice and research the book is for anyone interested in the therapeutic use of photographs it will be of particular interest to psychological therapists and especially psychotherapists counsellors psychologists and art therapists as well as photographers and others wishing to explore further the use of photographs therapeutically within their existing practices as teacher shortages reach a global crisis point this book explores how time poverty has become a critical factor in the working lives of teachers and school leaders arguing that we need to move away from framing the problem of teachers work as simply workload this book suggests that understanding time poverty is the first step in moving toward more manageable working lives the book brings together international perspectives on teacher time poverty drawing on theoretical and empirical work to underscore the growing complexity of teachers work and how this impacts job satisfaction stress and feeling that there is never enough time to accomplish all that needs to be done many policy solutions misdiagnose the problems of teachers work simply suggesting it is an issue of workload the chapters investigate issues of work intensification finding that teachers are not only working longer but also working harder as they manage more complex classrooms and policy mandates this book is essential reading for those interested in understanding how current education policy both produces time poverty and could better identify and respond to the complexities of teachers work
