the nova trilogy stands apart from naked lunch and other works because the trilogy despite all appearances is first and foremost about language the structure and movement of the text is an experiment in the capabilities of language not writing story telling or thinking but of language itself while also contemplating and exploring those capabilities thematically issues of control infiltrate shattered themes of communication sex death self and other and addiction at the center of which lies a power struggle between language and its human hosts the soft machine the nova express and the ticket that exploded represent one of the most profound statements on language by language the primary impediment to understanding the nova trilogy is the language of the text itself written using the cut up technique the reader is presented with a strange and fragmented language the nova trilogy must first and foremost be analysed on this basic radical level exploring the theoretical underpinnings of the text as a concatenation of words and phrases this examination of the language and the literal text itself is required to properly decipher meaning and cohesion among the high non sensical montages of seemingly arbitrary words and phrases until deciphered the text can only be witnessed accepted or rejected but never assimilated this irreducible distance between reader and text allows the text an autonomy by which it can be its own mediator controlling its hieroglyphic significance relatively unchallenged by extra textual content repetitions and juxtapositions mark time for this internal movement of the text the literal procession of words and language repetition and juxtaposition of words and phrases generates a significance and signifying network unique to the language and text of the nova trilogy this repetitious generative process evolves synchronically instigating a perpetual modifying and re modifying of meaning in constructing significance the spatio temporal management of the text is situated in derrida's notion of the trace and supplement and taken altogether the progression of the text of the nova trilogy is explicitly constructed upon a chronotope the procession or movement of supplementarity
