four groundbreaking plays that explore the complex relationship between England and India over more than a century weaving together personal and political narratives. The Waiting Room by Priya Banerjee is a play where a woman is dead but her life is far from over; she has just three days left to roam the earth before she can go on to the waiting room of spirits. As she reluctantly watches and listens to her family, Priya is guided by a droll and increasingly impatient immortal soul in the guise of her Bollywood idol Dilip Kumar. Great Expectations: Relocating Pip's Extraordinary Journey to Nineteenth-Century India is a coming-of-age story evoking some of Dickens' most colourful characters. It is faithful to the period of the book and the richness of Dickens' language, a vivid theatrical retelling of a universally loved masterpiece. The Empress: It is the Jubilee Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee (1887) at Tilbury Docks. Rani and Abdul step ashore after the long voyage from India; one has to battle a society who deems her a second-class citizen. The other forges an astonishing entanglement with the ageing Queen who finds herself enchanted by stories of an India she rules but has never seen. Lions and Tigers: Based on the true story of Tanika Gupta's great uncle and freedom fighter Dinesh Gupta, the play charts the Dinesh's emotional and political awakening as this extraordinary 19-year-old pits himself against the British Raj. Winner of the James Tait Black Award in 2018.

This collection of essays covering a broad historical range shows that women working in theatre and drama since the time of Aphra Behn have been engaged in pushing the boundaries of conventional representation and dramaturgical convention. Collectively the authors show that women have used performing spaces as a channel for both political and personal radicalism, one that has demanded and celebrated experimentalism as a kind of survival in a male-dominated world.

A thrilling filmic immersion into Berlin's legendary club scene, a skillfully told novel about the fragility of life. Berlin Görlitzer Park: The body of a young woman in a white wedding dress floats in the canal. Who is she and where does she come from? Suspended Drugs: Investigator Tommy trawls Berlin's clubs and criminal clans to uncover the woman's story. On his odyssey through the city, he meets survivors and fighters, the lost and stranded from all over the world, from the Japanese tattoo master to the Indian fire-eater. Wide awake and dead tired, suspended between a dreamscape and reality, Tommy dives deeper and deeper into the Berlin underworld and into his own past. A breathless noir novel that is as hard hitting as it is emotional, exploring the fragility of life and our longing for community. Praise for One Clear Ice Cold Morning at the beginning of the twenty-first century: a highly original and often hypnotic work, exactly the type of book that readers in search of striking European voices should embrace. John Boyne, author of The Boy in the Striped Pyjamas (Irish Times). A brilliantly kaleidoscopic morality tale (Eileen Battersby, Financial Times). A magnificent achievement, a novel of terrific originality (Charlie Connelly, New European). The exhilarating narrative is wonderfully concise and the imagery is intensely cinematic (Barry Forshaw, Guardian). Translated from the German by Jamie Bulloch.

Why do so many writers and audiences turn to theatre to resolve overwhelming topics of pain and suffering? This collection of essays from international scholars reconsiders how theatre has played a crucial part in encompassing and preserving significant human experiences. Plays about global issues including terrorism and war are increasing in attention from playwrights, scholars, critics and audiences. In this contemporary collection, a gathering of diverse contributors explain theatre's special ability to generate dialogue and promote healing when dealing with human tragedy. This collection discusses over 30 international plays and case studies from different time periods, all set in a backdrop of war. The four sections document British and American perspectives on theatres of war, global perspectives on theatres of war, perspectives on Black Watch, and finally perspectives on the Great Game in Afghanistan. Through this, a range of international scholars from different disciplines imaginatively rethink theatre's unique ability to mediate the impacts and experiences of war, featuring contributions from a variety of perspectives. This book provides a wealth of revealing insights into why authors and audiences have always turned to the unique medium of theatre to make sense of war.
